Seek update on zoning

THE HOUSE and Town Committee of the State House of Representatives is considering a series of bills which would update and improve Michigan's zoning laws. That's the word from State Rep. Thomas Brown (D-37th District). See story on Page A-11.

Greektown jail looms again

WAYNE COUNTY officials once again are looking into the possibility of building a new jail near Greektown, only the building would be lower, contain less prisoners and be more pleasing to the eye than the 800-bed high-rise structure that was rejected by area merchants and City of Detroit agencies. See story on Page A-10.

Winter sports are offered

SIX HURON Clinton Metropolitan Authority metropolis will be offering a variety of facilities for winter recreation during the 1977-78, with public use available as soon as "Old Man Winter" blows. See story on Page A-12.

Juvenile plan to be aired

WAYNE COUNTY Commissioner Mary E. Dumas of Livonia is urging all suburban parents, teachers, school board members and organizations like the League of Women Voters to attend the first public hearing on the proposed state juvenile justice plan to be held in Western Wayne County tonight. Witnessed by overflow crowd

New officials inaugurated

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Amid the glamour of evening gowns and colorful men's suits, Romulus conducted its fourth inaugural at city hall Monday before an overflow audience in the council chambers.

The ladies were dressed in their finery and the men decked out in finest clothes to herald the incoming administration and a "New Day" in Romulus.

More than 200 people filled the council chambers and flowed out into the hall. Those who stood outside in the corridors watched the swearing in of the nine elected officials on closed-circuit television. William M. Oakley, who won the mayor's race by more than 400 votes, was the center of attention.

Outgoing Mayor James Stewart gave an extended farewell address, listing his accomplishments over his two-years as the city's chief administrator.

Showing his obvious hurt at being rejected for a second term as mayor and bitter toward those he thought helped hasten his demise, Stewart closed with a bitter remark.

After thanking those who supported him, he mentioned those who had made his life miserable and threatened his life, he said, many times.

"I hope all of you who opposed me and made my life miserable, rot in hell," he said, turning and going back to his seat.

Then State Senator William Faust administered the oath of office to the nine elected officials, including Oakley, Clerk Leonard Folmar, Treasurer Helen Gallien, and Council members Mary Ann Banks, president, Beverly McAnally, Gerry Canejo, Ray Cantrell, Mary Carter and Jimmie Raspberry.

Fred (Junior) Block was not present at the inauguration.

When Mayor Oakley approached the podium to give his inaugural address, the audience stood to its feet and gave him a big ovation.

Visibly conspicuous by not standing to honor the new mayor with her fellow council members was Mrs. McAnally, who sat with arms folded while the audience welcomed the new administrator of Romulus.

Looking a trifle nervous, Oakley looked out over the audience of well-wishers and told them of his gratitude for honoring him with the new title of mayor.

"I see my job as your mayor to service all the citizens of Romulus," he said. He departed from his prepared speech and spoke less than three minutes.

"I make you a promise I didn't make during the campaign," he remarked. "I promise to be worthy of the trust you people have placed in me."

"I affirm to uphold the law..."

Nine newly-elected Romulus officials promised to uphold the laws of the city and the country as they took the oath of office Monday. State Sen. William Faust (right) administered the swearing in at inauguration. Taking the oath were (from left) Council members Ray Cantrell, Gerry Canejo, Beverly McAnally;

Treasurer Helen Gallien; Mayor William Oakley; City Clerk Leonard Folmar; Council Chairman Mary Ann Banks; Council member Mary Louise Carter and Councilman Jimmie C. Raspberry. Absent from the inauguration was Councilman Fred (Junior) Block, who won his fourth term.

Baum backed against critic on millage stand

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Just when the chairman of the Citizen's Advisory Committee should be happy in seeing the recent Romulus school millage pass by a substantial margin, he says a recent letter to the Romulus Roman has brought him much grief.

Doug Baum, a prominent businessman in the city for many years, was personally attacked in a letter to the editor by Ellen Grishaber, one of his 11-member committee.

She claimed in her letter that Baum was guilty of politicking in favor of new Romulus mayor, Bill Oakley, and that Baum's sole purpose was to pass the millage — not seek out information.

Information supplied by the Citizen's Advisory Committee, whose report was printed verbatim in the Roman the week before the millage election, was given credit for helping the school millage to pass by 121 votes.

The same millage attempt was buried by 855 votes less than two months ago.

Aroused to anger by what they call false accusations and insinuations leveled against Baum, the Citizen's Advisory Committee (CAC) called a meeting which purposely excluded Baum.

The purpose of the gathering was to draft an answer to Mrs. Grishaber's allegations.

"Recently, several concerned School Advisory Committee members met to discuss the editorial letter which appeared in the Nov. 9, 1977 issue of the Romulus Roman," the CAC rebuttal began.

"The insinuations contained in that letter, submitted by one disgruntled committee member, demanded clarification.

"First of all, a tremendous amount of reference material was provided by the school board, administration, the city assessor's office and the Lansing Committee. Some of the materials included were audits, budget reports, an MOP report, buildings analysis, the up-to-date report on the tax reassessment, various transportation documents and voucher records.

"The committee felt, after an in-depth review and of all the data, that a simplified statement should be made to the public prior to the election," the CAC report stated. "Even though our final report was brief and to the point, it in no way reflects the amount of time and effort put in by the group.

"All members of the Advisory Committee were informed and agreed to Mr. Baum's main objective of providing factual information to the community as to the need for millage, prior to accepting a seat on the committee," the report continued.

The report, submitted to the Roman by Noreen DePalma on behalf of the other committee members, said the first meeting of the group was spent getting acquainted and voicing individual concerns. They also requested candidates for public office to refrain from using the millage as a political issue.

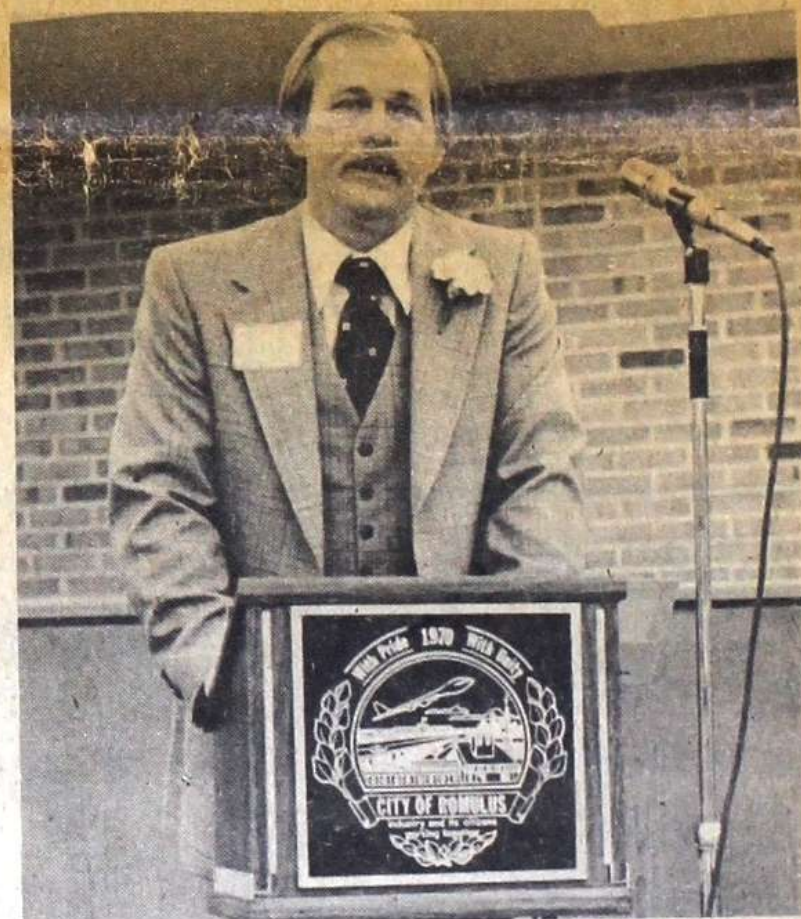

"We, as responsible representatives of the community, feel that the charges brought against Mr. Baum and the committee members are twisted and totally distorted," the CAC rebuttal stated.

"At no time did this group spend any measurable amount of time discussing any topic other than school issues. It is a disgrace that one person should attempt to destroy the integrity and credibility of a fine man and the efforts of a successful committee for the sake of one's own personal gratification.

"We wish to thank Mr. Baum for caring enough about all of our kids to organize and chair such a committee. We hope that this unfortunate incident will not deter him from future involvement in school affairs, as he is an asset to our community."

The report closed with a proverb that the committee said speaks for itself: "Fallacies can travel around the world twice before the truth can leave home."

Several committee members spoke to the Roman personally about their dissatisfaction over the letter of allegations, while others have expressed their opinions in letters to the editor.

New Romulus mayor

Newly-elected Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley was sworn in along with eight other winning candidates Monday by State Sen.

William Faust. "I promise to be worthy of the trust you people have placed in me," Oakley said as he gave his inaugural address.

Did mayor ask for show of faith?

It was revealed that newly-elected Mayor William M. Oakley has requested the resignations of approximately 15 department heads at Romulus City Hall.

Following up on a rumor, The Romulus Roman talked to a veteran supervisor who verified that Oakley had "officially" asked for the resignations verbally at a meeting yesterday in city hall.

The department head, who wished to remain anonymous, said the mayor made it plain he was making the request "officially." Last week, Oakley had asked several supervisors personally for their resignations, the supervisor said.

Contacted by the Roman, Oakley said, "I'm not looking for anyone's job. I'm looking for performance."

He referred to yesterday's meeting as a "pep talk" from which the supervisors got "little benefit." Actually, he said he told them that he did not like the phrase "letter of resignation," but would rather use one that stated "letter of faith."

Oakley explained that he was forced to take on department heads chosen by someone else, and that he wanted to be reassured that the supervisors had faith in him and were willing to work with his administration.

Thus, the mayor's statement would indicate that the terminations would be made on the basis of what was contained in individual letters of "resignation" or "faith" turned in by supervisors.

The Roman's news source said the City Charter clearly states that a department head has until 12:01 p.m. on the first Monday in December to continue in his position. He said the mayor admitted that fact at the meeting yesterday.

A recent move by supervisors at city hall to form their own union and assure job security by doing away with the practice of discharging all supervisors by an incoming administration is still in the works. However, city council has yet to negotiate with the group.

WCCC eyes campus in Van Buren area

By MAURICEGEARY
Community Coordinator
Wayne County Community College

Near the junction of the westbound I-94 and I-275 in Van Buren Township, there is a field. Today this field wears an autumnal, pastoral look, which in a way will never be the same. Four years from now, when October leaves fall upon this 117-acre expanse of land, the former field will have undergone a change, becoming a campus of people and buildings belonging to Wayne County Community College.

The change from field to facility is no idle vision, but a plan destined to become a reality. The concept, part of a series of developments launched in WCCC's 5-year Master Facilities Plan, provides for major career-occupational and liberal arts instructional centers throughout the institution's service area.

The prospect of a large, permanent campus is one currently being offered to the residents of Western Wayne County through a variety of means, all directed at seeking both input and acceptance for one of the county's most expansive and well-equipped educational facilities.

Milton and John Glenn High schools in Wayne and Inkster have welcomed the college and supplied classrooms for liberal arts instruction for many years, but there has always been the need for a large center able to accommodate the thousands of people who want vocational-technical education and career preparation. The new Western Wayne County campus of WCCC will be a regional hub, providing the most modern facilities for vocational-technical education with Milton and Glenn serving as feeder centers for liberal arts instruction.

Recently, citizens of Romulus, Van Buren, Inkster, Westland and Wayne were asked what they might like to see happen at the new college campus. What kinds of courses would they like to see offered? How could the college best serve the community? What kinds of vocational and technical training would be most in demand? What about the site selection and transportation?

The opinion of Henry Fortson, president of the Inkster Board of Education, was: 'Attractive vocational-technical courses and adequate transportation could make the difference for this area.'

Mary Wilkerson, corresponding Secretary of the area Mental Health Board and an active member of the Area Citizens Advisory Council of the College, agreed with Mr. Fortson, adding: "Vocational-technical preparation is most necessary for the area students, and I heartily approve the building of a college center that can do this. Mental health courses designed as part of career preparation would be most welcome."

Dale Kaulitz, superintendent of schools for the Van Buren Public Schools, outlined his concerns: "Courses in health, nursing, dental technology and industrial training should be emphasized, rather than transfer courses for this area. Community use of College facilities should also be provided."

Bill Smith, director of Community Education for the Romulus Schools and a member of the college's Citizens Advisory Council, made several suggestions: "More information about the new center should be released soon. People in the area should have something to say about it."

"About 80 percent of students in the area need something besides transfer courses — computer programming, allied health, secretarial science, aircraft maintenance, diesel mechanics, bump shop, heating, air conditioning, and dental specialization — all these are in demand."

"Dwindling school population in the area will be a problem, but the new center is most welcome and needed."

Many other area residents expressed their general approval of a WCCC campus in Western Wayne County. All of them appeared excited about the possibilities and potential of the campus for enlarging the educational opportunities available in the region and the resultant impact on employment for local residents in technical fields.

It seems that the greatest benefit of the realization of WCCC's plans for Western Wayne County will not only be the physical presence of a developing and fully equipped campus serving nearby satellite centers, but rather the potential for this campus and the regional community to work together for the educational, social and economic advancement of this area.

Out-county residents speak on Juvenile Code changes

Wayne County Commissioner Mary E. Dumas of Livonia is urging all suburban parents, teachers, school board members and organizations like the League of Women Voters to attend the first public hearing on the proposed state juvenile justice plan to be held in Western Wayne County tonight.

The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Schoolcraft College Liberal Arts Auditorium, 18600 Haggerty, between Six and Seven Mile roads in Livonia.

Mrs. Dumas said Juvenile Court Judge Gladys Barsamian has confirmed her appearance on the panel for that evening and that William J. Phelps, chairman for the Juvenile Justice Services Commission and state director of the Office of Youth Services, tentatively has confirmed.

"They will be available to answer questions about juvenile laws and services in Michigan," she said.

The public hearing is the third in a series sponsored by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to give parents and other concerned citizens the opportunity to speak out on proposed changes in laws governing juveniles.

"We've had excellent attendance at the two Detroit-based hearings so I'm hopeful that outcounty parents and citizens will take the time to find out what is going on in Lansing," Mrs. Dumas said.

Mrs. Dumas said a House Judiciary subcommittee currently is considering several revisions in the state juvenile code, including those laws dealing with truants and runaways.

"A flurry of bills has descended on the Legislature since the Juvenile Justice Services Commission came out with its 600-page document containing 126 recommendations to change the juvenile code," she said.

The commission was created 18 months ago and funded with $1.8 million to recommend changes in the Juvenile Code.

Some settlement costs are usually charged to the buyer. Others are usually the responsibility of the seller. Although local customs and practices often dictate which are the buyer's and which are the seller's costs, there are no hard and fast rules that apply, and in most cases the buyer and seller can negotiate as to who will pay specific settlement charges. You can also negotiate with providers of settlement services as to whether each charge will be made and the amount. You should be charged only for services actually performed and as required.

A Message of Thanks

November 16, 1977

Citizens of Romulus:

As I enter the Office of Mayor, I would like to pay special tribute to my family and to those dedicated supporters and workers who gave their time and energy so unselfishly to help me during the campaign.

You have each in your own way been a friend to me, and I can well appreciate that all workers, regardless of political affiliations, are the backbone of any campaign.

Please let me say to every voter and resident that I have taken the oath of office having made no political promises to anyone. My singular obligation is to provide the best possible service and the highest caliber of conduct in office for all the citizens of Romulus.

Sincerely,

William M. Oakley
Mayor
City of Romulus

Mayor Oakley's inaugural address

Seven months ago we set out to evolve for Romulus a new image — a portrait of our city that would reflect the true sensibility and sincerity of the people who comprise Romulus. To a great extent, we have done this, yet the wonder of this goal is that together, we have only just begun.

We have charted a course for Romulus that centers on a Master Plan for People. It is a Master Plan that devotes itself not so much to factories, as it does to families.

It is a multi-point program that concerns itself with the welfare and future of you and your children; and with the rights and wisdom of your parents and grandparents.

It is an all encompassing plan that articulates our needs for recreation; dedicated city services; a prideful appearance; provision for seniors; and residential housing.

Because of the compassionate leaders you have elected to the city council, it is a Master Plan that will not only improve living and working conditions outside your front door, but will enhance the quality of life within your homes as well.

We are together some 6000 families, who make up a small community that enjoys an unlimited, dynamic potential. Within a 500 mile radius of our area, there exists 50 percent of the total U.S. consumer spendable income and 47 percent of the nation's population.

If there is promise in these figures, it is because there is promise in us. We are a unique community whose strength lies in our diversity, for we are a gifted mixture of labor and professionals, Black and White, age and youth. We are truly a cross-section of America, likewise enriched by the talents of each other.

So, while it is important that we seek to fulfill our potential, it is more important that we never lose sight of who we are.

I have no doubt that the next two years will at times be difficult, for the task of implementing a Master Plan for People is complicated and unending.

Let it be noted then, that long after today's ceremonies have passed, I will continue to need your support and guidance.

Today, I have been privileged to receive the trust of hundreds of people throughout our city, and I have sworn myself to be the guardian of that good faith.

Along the way, I may make some mistakes. But I promise you this: I will do everything in my power to never fail your trust.

In Brief

RHA set to meet

Romulus Horseman's Association (RHA) will feature Cathy Bies, instructor of handicapped riding program of Wayne County 4-H Extension office, in a free program at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Romulus City Hall.

Horseback riding gives handicapped children the self-confidence they often lack and it also helps them to learn balance and muscular control," explained Barbara G. Schultz, president of RHA.

"Cathy is very fine in explaining how this fine program helps handicapped children throughout the area," said Mrs. Schultz.

The program will be held in the community room in the basement of Romulus City Hall, 1111 S. Wayne Road, just south of Goddard Road.

Seniors celebrate holiday

The Wayne County Office on Aging's Nutrition Program is sponsoring its fifth annual Thanksgiving Special on Monday at 48 nutrition sites throughout suburban Wayne County.

"I am encouraging all senior citizens to participate in our Turkey Day celebration," said Caroline Lewis, director of the Out-Wayne County Nutrition Program.

The menu will include sliced turkey with dressing, cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes, and peas with mushrooms, according to Mrs. Lewis. The lunch will be served at the usual meal time — around 12 noon, Mrs. Lewis said.

More than 3,000 persons from the out-county municipalities are expected to participate in the turkey dinners. Persons 60 years or older and their spouses are eligible.

The Nutrition Program is sponsored through Title VII of the Older American's Act.

Visits Romulus High

Rep. Ford accepts teen's invitation

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) granted the request of a high school girl last week and visited her social studies class in Romulus. Ford's impressive speech to the Romulus High School government students was prompted by the invitation of Denise Hunter, one of instructor Rod Hanna's ambitious pupils.

"I want to congratulate the residents of Romulus for passing the school millage and helping to see that you students are able to get a good education," Ford said in opening remarks.

He went on to discuss in general the benefits of quality education.

Speaking to a large group in the school auditorium, Ford answered a wide range of questions as well as giving his own opinions on many subjects.

According to Hanna, the students were most pleased when Ford assured them that our Social Security system will not be dissolved in the future and that the American people will continue to receive Social Security benefits.

Recently, most of the students in Hanna's government class had written to Ford, expressing their opinions regarding various important subjects that Congress is dealing with today.

Some of the topics included: the energy situation, Social Security, the Panama Canal controversy, unemployment and many other interesting subjects.

Hanna reported that Ford was kind enough to answer every letter the students sent to him and he also sent various government booklets and pamphlets to all who wrote.

"I thought the meeting with Congressman Ford was a great opportunity for the students to meet and talk directly to the person who represents them in Wash., D.C.," Hanna said.

Ford was asked by the students why Social Security system is going to raise taxes. He gave as some of the reasons, long unemployment period where no social security was collected and more people collecting from military, sickness and disability.

The U.S. Congressman pointed out there may be a merger sometime between federal employees' retirement and Social Security. However, that proposal was recently rejected by Congress.

Ford warned his eager listeners that Michigan faces the possible loss of one Congressman because of a decline in population.

The longtime elected official declared that people are leaving Michigan at the rate of 116,000 per year and since each seat in Congress is based on population, Michigan may soon lose a seat.

Hanna thoroughly enjoyed the visit from Ford, who serves more than half a million people in his 15th District.

"Not only did I thoroughly enjoy it, but the students also learned a lot and found it very interesting," Hanna said.

"Also, we appreciate Congressman Ford taking time from his busy schedule to come and play a meaningful part in our students' lives," the government teacher concluded.

Carrier of the week

Sandy Martinez

Sandy Martinez has been a newspaper carrier for The Wayne Eagle for about 15 months now, and has 80 residents on Thibault Street area depending on her to deliver their hometown newspaper. Sandy's reliability and dedication qualify her as this week's Carrier of the Week for Associated Newspapers.

An eighth grade student at Stevenson Junior High, Sandy has a number of other interests besides reading and delivering the newspaper.

She runs track and specializes in the 1,500-meter race. In fact, she recently competed in the all-city meet among the area junior high schools, and placed fourth in the competition. Other sports activities include playing softball and competing on the school swim team.

Sandy has another area of expertise — she plays viola in the school orchestra, and has been playing the instrument since fourth grade.

She is the daughter of Barbara and Phil Martinez of Wayne.

Seniors are targets of 'Pigeon Drop'

BY SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

A young woman approaches you at a suburban shopping mall, strikes up a conversation and before you know it, you're being offered a money-making deal that's too good to be true.

What should you do? "Run, don't walk to the nearest phone or security officer." You might be being set up for the "pigeon drop".

That's the word from Westland Police Sgt. Leonard Goodlesky. And it's being directed to area senior citizens, especially women, who are the prime targets of the age-old confidence trick.

That con game has turned up in this suburban Western Wayne County community, and has netted one smooth-talking duo $4,000 for four hours of "work".

The con—in legal jargon, larceny by trick—is happening on an average of about one every third day in the Detroit metropolitan area, with the payoffs ranging from $500 to $4,000. Some have gone as high as $15,000, the police detective said.

How does the pigeon drop work? In the Westland case—the first successful con in the three years that Goodlesky has been assigned to the department's Investigative Bureau—the victim was approached at Westland Center by the first (No.1) of the confidence team. She struck up a conversation about banks in the area, mentioning that she had just received a $4,000 inheritance and was looking for a good place to deposit it.

Enter her accomplice (No. 2), who "happened by" with a large amount of winnings from the race track. As the conversation unfolded, the second woman delved into what should be done with her windfall. To the victim, the two women appeared not to know each other.

In the course of the conversation it was "decided" that No. 2 should see a "lawyer nearby". She returned a half hour later, telling the waiting perpetrator and the "pigeon", that she must pay $8,000 in taxes. In the ensuing conversation, the first woman volunteered to put up her money in exchange for its return and a $10,000 bonus.

Woman No. 2 then headed off to again see the unnamed lawyer to supposedly have the money's serial numbers recorded. She returned later with her accomplice's "payoff".

The victim, offered the same chance to make a quick buck, was convinced that the money scheme worked, and went to her bank, accompanied by one of the duo, to withdraw the needed $4,000.

After retrieving her funds, the money was taken to the "lawyer" by one of the women. The victim was then told the lawyer wanted to talk to her and would give her her $4,000 and the promised $10,000 bonus.

Sent on her way to where she was to meet the lawyer, that was when the "pigeon" was dropped.

The entire routine took four hours, a costly experience for the victim, who is in her 70s and was aware of such confidence games.

Why would somebody fall for such shady get-rich-quick schemes?

According to Goodlesky: "It takes a little larceny in the heart to think you can get something for nothing."

He went on to say that senior citizens are prime targets for such swindles because they "are leisure shoppers". He added that young people are more rushed and don't have the time it would take to be taken in by such a con.

Suburban shopping malls have become favorite sites for such routines because "elderly persons with money don't live in Detroit and it's easier to meet people at shopping centers than on the streets of Detroit".

"People have no qualms about talking to anyone in a suburban mall."

Goodlesky described the pigeon drop as a "strictly white-collar crime", involving a "rehearsed, planned conversation with a person, that is rehearsed and tried until successful".

To date he and fellow Police Sgt. Dave Klinebriel have spent 50 manhours working on the Oct. 21 case to identify the two women involved. Their investigation has involved contact with at least 15 other police agencies, which resulted in photographs of the suspects.

But even with that, if a warrant is issued, Goodlesky is not certain how many more manhours it will take to track down the elusive subjects. Their whereabouts are unknown.

In the con artists' "psychological game", the victims are almost always women, and the perpetrators are almost always female. That's not to say that men have not been involved in such schemes as either "pigeon" or con, Goodlesky said.

"Nobody knows when the pigeon drop started, but it's been around as long as I can remember," he added. "We can't stop it, the banks can't stop it. The people themselves have to be wary when an approach is made. They have to look at it very carefully, especially if it involves something for nothing."

Goodlesky went on to say that rumors are circulating that there are "schools out of state" to train perpetrators. In one recent case in Ann Arbor, police recovered the "written script", the conversation to be used in the con.

"These people are extremely proficient."

"A majority of the victims know and hear about pigeon drops, but these people (the con artists) are still successful," he added, saying that bank tellers in the metropolitan area have been notified of such scams and question seniors who are withdrawing large sums of money.

Goodlesky said that many such incidents are unreported because the "older people are ashamed of having been taken".

What can be done about such crimes?

Goodlesky said seniors should be wary of anyone who approaches them "with any story that's believable, any object that has a quick resale value".

FCC attacks 'little black box'

By JANICE PLESIEWICZ
Nightbird KNN 5032

Presently, linear amplifiers are under fire from the Federal Communications Commission. There are two ways the commission is trying to solve the problem. One is by banning the manufacturer of power amplifiers capable of use on the 11 meter band.

The commission also has increased the technical requirements that the manufacturers of these black boxes must meet with their equipment. In plain English, the FCC is driving out of business the creators of those illegal foot-warmer. The manufacturers are fighting to insure that they will not be penalized if CBers use the boxes illegally.

The second step being taken by the FCC is aimed directly against the CBER using the power amps along with his mobile or base. As I understand it, right now the FCC's special task forces are making an all out attempt to apprehend the users of these devices.

Each enforcement team consists of nine or 10 FCC agents who will go out to areas suspected of using amplifiers. If a CBER is caught with one of the black boxes in his possession, whether it be in use or not, the commission will insist that it's use be stopped immediately.

According to FCC in 1977, they expect to receive some 150,000 television interference complaints. Most of these complaints stem directly from the use of power amplifiers from CBers. It is expected that the commission will find three quarters of these complaints to be true. When the person using the amplifier is found he will be heavily fined.

Let's face it there are plenty of these black boxes in use at the present time. A lot of them are being used in mobiles. Does anyone stop to realize that any mobile rig is limited to 12 volts of power. Now go ahead and install a 1,000-watt amplifier in your mobile and figure out the amperage drain on your battery. Believe me there are fools out there who do it just so they can "get out". Even with your alternator struggling at it's best it's going to wear out.

Another thing to remember is that all that power is pumping through your antenna. You have a loading coil in your antenna and it works pretty much on the same basis as the coils you find in an electric heater. Pour a lot of wattage into a coil and it gets pretty hot. A 100-watt amplifier can drain eight amps from your battery. How long do you think your battery can last with that kind of strain put on it?

Of course, you might say the only time it tends to drain is when you push that mike button to talk, but let's face it, if your running a linear you don't have it there for looks, your doing some talking. So you do a lot of talking with that black box turned on, maybe your car will keep running but when you shut it off you might be in for a big surprise when you go to start it again. More than likely you will have enough spare power left to go on the air and call for help but why bother to go through the aggravation?

One other good reason for not having a footwarmer is that they are illegal.

WE HONOR OR

"The citizens of Michigan are faced with a crisis that came to the forefront four years ago and has yet to be resolved. It is the energy crisis. The crisis has many facets: it is a crisis of diminishing resources and increased dependence on foreign imports; it is a crisis of skyrocketing costs and of waste; and, unfortunately, it is a crisis of disbelief. Many citizens are not yet convinced that we are indeed confronted with an invisible enemy that touches all aspects of our lives. Michigan is particularly vulnerable since it must import close to 95 percent of its energy supplies. But the energy crisis is such that individual efforts can make a difference. Therefore, I, William G. Milliken, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby declare November, 1977, as the second annual Energy Month in Michigan. I urge every citizen in the state to focus in on the issues of energy and the importance energy plays in our lives. And I urge every citizen to seek new ways to conserve energy while at the same time developing a new energy ethic."

Governor William G. Milliken

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

It's Michigan Energy Month. Take another look at how you can use energy wisely.

Governor William Milliken has officially proclaimed November as Energy Month to promote discussion about energy conservation in Michigan.

It's a good time for all of us to find and share new ways to use energy wisely.

The theme for the month, "Energy - Handle with Care," tells the story. Many of the fuels we use to supply energy are becoming scarce and expensive. So energy conservation directly concerns us all.

If you have questions on energy-saving techniques, call the Energy Hot Line in Lansing during November. The number is 1-800-292-4704 and it's toll-free.

Here are just a few of the things you can do to conserve energy at home. You'll be dollars ahead on energy costs, too.

- Keep your furnace and air conditioner in good repair, and replace filters often. Faulty appliances waste energy and money.
- Consider installing a heat pump for energy-efficient heating and cooling. If you're planning on buying an air conditioner next summer, make sure it's the right size for the area you want to cool and has an Energy Efficiency Rating of 8 or more.
- using compact service vehicles for more efficient and economical operation and gas mileage
- pioneering time-of-day rates and remote-controlled air conditioning and water heating to reduce energy consumption and waste as well as slowing the need to build costly new generating plants
- continuing research into alternative energy sources such as solar, nuclear, wind and refuse in order to conserve scarce fossil fuels.

As an energy supplier, Detroit Edison is an active and concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation.

So, even though the people at Detroit Edison cannot control the use of energy other than their own, they are continually working to produce and supply electricity as efficiently as possible; both to conserve our non-renewable natural resources and to give you the most for your energy dollar.

Here are some of the things Detroit Edison is doing:

- salvaging and recycling paper, wire, lines hardware, poles, street-lighting equipment, transformers, capacitors... even oil, again saving limited resources

America's crusade for conservation requires a working relationship between those who supply energy and those who use it.

Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But the success of this crusade depends on all of us... every day, every month, all year round.

November is Energy Month.
Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Metroparks get ready for Old Man Winter

Six huron clinton Metropolitan Authority metroparks will be offering a variety of facilities for winter recreation during 1977-78, with public use available as soon as "Old Man Winter" blows.

Metro Beach Metropark on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens is a good perch fishing site, with fishermen using the canals, boat basins, Black Creek and Lake St. Clair for ice fishing. Ice skating facilities include general skating, located directly in front of the food bar and hockey rinks located in the boat basins.

Weather permitting, the lighted general ice skating hours are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, while hockey rink hours are 10 a.m. to dusk, with a 1-hour limit on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays (no reservations are available). Coin-operated lockers are available for clothes checking. The food bar is open Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Park hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

For snow and ice conditions contact Metro Beach Metropark at 963-3022 (Detroit Line) or 463-4581 (Mt. Clemens).

Stony Creek Metropark near Utica and Rochester features a wide variety of facilities for winter sports, including ice fishing, ice skating, sledding, tobogganing, cross-country skiing and ski rental service.

Several hills throughout the park provide natural slopes for sledding and tobogganing, with use at each site depending upon snow cover. (There are no specially developed runs, but the hills are excellent with proper snow cover).

Cross-country ski trails, suitable for the novice, slightly more advanced or advanced skiers are located at Stony Creek Metropark. Cross-country ski rental service will be offered at the Ski Touring Center (located at the Eastwood Beach site), with complete rental equipment offered by Raupp Campfitters Inc., in conjunction with the Huron-Clinton Metropark system.

Park hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. For ice and snow conditions contact Stony Creek Metropark at 781-4242 (Washington Exchange).

Kensington Metropark near Milford, one of the most popular winter playgrounds in southeastern Michigan, has facilities for ice skating, tobogganing, sledding, cross-country skiing and ski rentals, ice fishing, nature hikes and photography.

General skating and hockey rinks are located on Kent Lake in front of the boat rental building, with skating hours from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. — weather permitting.

The hilly slopes at the toboggan area are ideal for sledding and tobogganing, with five toboggan runs and a separate area for sledding. A nearby shelter has a fireplace and tables for snacks. Hours daily are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. weather permitting.

Cross-country skiing is very popular in Kensington Metropark with miles of trails covering all types of terrain radiating from the ski touring center. Skiing also is permitted on the golf course, where the wide open space makes it appealing for the novice skier of all ages.

Park hours are 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. For ice and snow conditions contact Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

Hudson Mills Metropark, located 12½ miles northwest of Ann Arbor and near the Village of Dexter, has excellent terrain for cross-country skiing.

This is the primary winter attraction at the park. There are no specially developed trails, however, the scenic qualities of the park make it a wonderful spot for this fast-growing sport.

The nature trail is open year-around for self-guided hikes.

For information contact Hudson Mills Metropark, 8801 N. Territorial Road, Dexter 48130 or phone 426-8211 (Dexter).

Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville offers cross-country skiing, sledding or tobogganing on moderate slopes and ice skating.

Three natural rink surfaces are provided at inter-connected ponds, located in a ravine where skating is permitted until 10 p.m. daily, weather permitting. Lights and wood for rinkside fires are provided and nearby there are heated restrooms. The park entrance is on Hannan Road, just south of Huron River Drive via the Haggerty Road Interchange along the I-94 Freeway between Detroit Metropolitan Airport and the Belleville exit. Park hours are daylight to 10 p.m. For ice and snow conditions phone 697-9181 (Belleville).

Willow Metropark between New Boston and Flat Rock features cross-country skiing, sledding and tobogganing on moderate slopes.

The most ideal location for sledding and tobogganing is at the Chestnut Picnic Area. There are no specially developed runs for tobogganing, but with proper snow cover the hill is excellent. Nearby there are heated restrooms. The park entrance is along Willow Road. Park hours are daylight to 10 p.m. For snow conditions phone 697-9181 (Lower Huron Metropark in Belleville).

School lunches

On tap for students in the Van Buren and Lincoln Consolidated school cafeterias next week will be such menu entrees as roasted turkey and gravy and ravioli with cheese in tomato sauce.

In Van Buren's elementary schools will dine on juice, sloppy joes on buns, french fries, fruit, cookies and milk Monday, followed by the annual Thanksgiving dinner of roast turkey in gravy over mashed potatoes and dressing, cranberry sauce, vegetable, bread and butter, cake and milk.

Closing out the week next Wednesday will be a menu of soup, pizza, cole slaw, salad or vegetable, pudding and milk.

The district's schools will be closed Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving recess.

In the junior highs, the menu Monday will be cheeseburgers on buns, tator tots, cole slaw, cookies and milk, followed by the Thanksgiving menu of roast turkey with dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberry sauce, vegetable, bread and butter, pie and milk.

Rounding out the week next Wednesday will be a menu of ravioli with cheese in tomato sauce, vegetable, bread and butter, fruit Jell-O, cake and milk.

The alternate menu selections for the abbreviated week will be Coney Island foot-long Monday and Belleville burgers next Wednesday.

In the Lincoln Consolidated Schools, the menu Monday will be macaroni and cheese, buttered green beans, fresh fruit, rolls and butter and milk, with roasted turkey and gravy, whipped potatoes, dressing, cranberry sauce and milk on tap for Tuesday.

The menu next Wednesday will be hamburgers on buns, french fries, fruit, cookies and milk.

Walk looks at deer

A program entitled "Michigan's White-tailed Deer" will be presented at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Saturday at 9 a.m.

This program will cover the life history of these captivating animals. An introductory slide show will precede the outdoor walk.

The program is open to families and individuals only, however, advance registration is required.

Ballet, opera to star

Beverly Sills, America's first lady of the opera, and Margot Fonteyn, the world-renowned prima ballerina, will be featured in two of their finest performances on Channel 56. These specials are part of the Winter Wonderland of '56, an 11-day period that begins on Nov. 26 and features some of the best programming public television has to offer.

On Nov. 28 at 9 p.m., Channel 56 will present Ms. Sills in the San Diego Opera Company's production of "The Merry Widow". This is a new version of the beloved operetta with an all-new English translation as well as new costumes and sets. "The Merry Widow" is a spritely comedy about love and pursuit. The San Diego Opera Company is rated near the top as an American opera troop. Ms. Sills says that this production is one of the most beautiful she has ever been associated with.

The charming film biography of ballerina Margot Fonteyn will be shown Dec. 1 at 10 p.m. on Channel 56. Narrated by Richard Burton, the program will include moments from Ms. Fonteyn's career as well as her other life as the wife of a Panamanian diplomat.

Ms. Fonteyn is seen in a performance of the "Rose Adagio" from Sleeping Beauty, the ballet which propelled her to international stardom. Also included is a rehearsal in full costume with the famed Russian dancer Rudolph Nureyev.

An editorial opinion

Please, Mayor Oakley, bring us together

William M. Oakley's election to the office of mayor in Romulus climaxes the heated campaign that was begun more than six months ago.

The responsibility that now rests on the shoulders of Oakley is large. His campaign centered around the unfavorable image that Romulus has been forced to endure, promised to restore the integrity of the city, and to return the 'lost' pride to the city.

To accomplish his stated goals, Oakley must take firm positive steps in the direction of bringing all of the people of Romulus back together.

To that end, Oakley will have to exhibit his leadership abilities, and prove to the citizens of Romulus that he is the mayor of all the people.

Romulus has languished for too long in its self-imposed dissension. It is up to Oakley to shake the city out of its doldrums, replace rhetoric with action, and to encourage the people of Romulus to become involved in community affairs.

Oakley, a seven-year veteran of the Romulus City Council, will quickly learn that the mayor's office is not simply an extension of the council.

The decision, policies and procedures that are made in the next two years will be the true gage of the new mayor's abilities.

With Romulus at the crossroads of development, it is absolutely essential that Oakley employ all of the resources at his command to bring about the needed changes within the city, and to do so as quickly as possible.

We are confident that Bill Oakley is up to the challenge. He has indicated a willingness to listen, and to work with anyone necessary, in order to get the job done. That is exactly what it is going to take to restore the good name of Romulus and to guarantee its rightful place in a growing and prospering Western Wayne County.

If we might make a suggestion to Mayor Oakley.

For too many years, Romulus has been exploited by the county. Located directly in the center of city is Detroit Metro Airport. Paying little in taxes, and requiring a great deal of Romulus' attention, the airport could provide the perfect vehicle for both bringing the people of the city back together and improving the image of the town.

We suggest that one of the first priorities for the Oakley administration should be to petition the county for re-naming the airport—Romulus International Airport.

Romulus International Airport would put the city's name on the map. It would restore the image of the city, and would provide the residents of Romulus with instant recognition anywhere in the world.

It is not likely that the effort to have the airport's name changed would be an easy one, but the end results we feel would justify the efforts.

We think that it is time for the county to pay the piper. For too long the county has used Romulus for their benefit. It is now time for Romulus to receive its due.

We think that the airport re-naming project would start the Oakley administration off on the right foot.

We suggest that the new mayor consider that project for his first step.

Editor's Log

'Bill Johnson was a poor old dud...'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

The strains of an old tune were floating through my head. ".....Bill Jackson was a poor old dud who joined the dark town poker club, and cursed the day he told them he would join. His money used to go like it had wings; if he had queens someone had kings, and each night he would contribute all his coins."

This lively old Phil Harris tune would not leave my head during a recent bout with 52 of mankind's moral enemies.

The occasion was the result of a brief meeting with an old friend, who invited me to a Saturday night card game.

Now, I want you to know that poker has not been high priority with me as I have traveled the road of life. My dad, a big robust guy standing just about six-foot-four, had exposed me to the game while I was a youth. He felt that poker was a true test of a man's abilities, and equated the game with life.

I can still recall those evenings when his friends surrounded our dining room table. The cigarette and cigar smoke substantially reduced visibility within the room, but a feeling of 'rock hard stability' was also present.

I can recall no moment in my early life that has left such a lasting impression on me. In my mind, dad was a big tough guy who could probably lick anyone on the block, and the image of him and his friends sitting around the table playing poker, somehow enhanced my mind's image of my father as being security itself.

All of these thoughts came flooding back to me as I sat at that dining room table in the middle of a smoke-filled room.

"Never, never check and raise," he would say to me as I stood beside his large chair, during the brief moment that I was allowed into the world of grownups. "Poker is a game of skill, and there are rules of etiquette that must be followed," he would say.

I was never sure, if the feeling of closeness that existed in the room where the game was being played, was the result of the friendships at the table, or the result of the game itself.

I vividly remember longing for membership in that group, longing to belong in the middle of a bunch of guys who never questioned the concept of right and wrong, guys who believed that life had to be played by the rules and that winning was somehow not as important as how you played the game.

I guess I have always viewed poker as something other than a game.

I have sought among my friends, the same feeling of security that I thought I had witnessed during my dad's poker games of my youth.

I don't think I have ever found it; I don't think it ever existed.

I enjoy poker and the opportunity of spending an evening with good friends. The same rules of etiquette still apply, and occasionally I will have to answer a question from one of my boys who wander into the room during the game.

I hope that my son is left with the same fine impression that I had been left with. The game and the stage have remained the same, only the actors have changed.

Bald Eagle Speaks

Are bargains really bargains?

By BOB AMEEN

It seems that ever since I was a small child I have heard of "bargains" on everything from a bar of soap to an automobile.

As I grew older and began to learn something about the whole concept of wholesale and retail pricing, it began to dawn upon me why retail merchants could offer items they sold at what seemed to be very low figures when compared to regular prices.

When I go shopping for bargains, I always keep two thoughts in mind: You never get something for nothing, and you always get what you pay for! So, when I see what appears on the surface to be ridiculously low prices on merchandise, I don't get too excited. I know they will have these sales again and again and again.

Aside from what are called "leaders," normally low-priced items on which a merchant can even lose a few cents each, and which he uses to entice customers into his store, a profit is made on almost every item on sale during those so-called bonanza specials.

But, that's the name of the game in the business of retail sales.

The average customer, shopping, for instance in his or her neighborhood supermarket, doesn't realize all of what is incorporated in the prices he is paying for consumer goods. Figured into the price are such expenses as shoplifting, spoilage (if a grocery store), advertising (a big cost), etc. These expenses are in addition to the normal overhead such as rent, utilities, salaries, insurance and the like.

This means that the actual wholesale cost to the merchant for the items which he sells is considerably below the advertised retail figure, whether on sale or not. The actual difference between his wholesale cost and his normal retail price is large enough to allow much manipulation of prices.

Shoplifting, especially among teenagers, is at an all-time high, with only a small percentage of thieves ever caught. As the consumer who buys these goods, it is you who pays for the stolen items. In fact, a certain percentage, to reflect shop-lifted expenses, are incorporated into the retail prices you pay.

Advertising is about the largest expense after salaries. All of the advertisements you see in your local newspapers, circulars, magazines and on television and those ads you hear on the radio are all paid for by you, the consumer.

All of these advertising expenses are added into that "low" retail price you're paying. So, you can imagine how much less you would be paying for that new car, that suit of clothes or that diamond ring, if the costs for advertising, shoplifting and the other hundred and one overhead expenses were deducted from the retail price.

What is also interesting when people shop for bargains, especially women at the grocery store, is the way they are lured into the merchant's place of business with the leader items previously mentioned. Such leaders could be panty hose, cigarettes, eggs, hamburger, steak, etc.

Once in the store, the merchant has won his expenses for the advertising. Invariably, once in the store, shoppers "look around" and end up filling a grocery cart to the tune of many dollars.

Once home, if the shopper who originally went to the grocery store to get that special bargain, would sit down and figure out what she paid for each other item individually, the little woman would find she had paid more for most of them than she would have ordinarily. As P. T. Barnum is quoted to have said: "There's a sucker born every minute!"

The next time you go shopping for ANYTHING, remember: You don't get something for nothing, and you always get what you pay for!

Health Beat

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

We asked Ms. White if she ever felt threatened, or experienced an inordinate fear for her personal safety or survival while working in a mental health service.

She was quick to answer. "No, so often people on the outside are convinced that clients such as ours are just waiting for the opportunity to attack some person. It's simply not consistent with the facts."

When we do get an unsettled client, we are generally aware of the situation, and we can respond with the appropriate medication and isolation until we can bring the client 'down' and begin therapy."

She said that only twice in her several years of working in such services has she ever been physically attacked by a client, and in neither instance was she really hurt.

"In fact," she said, "while I was working in the prisoner ward at the Detroit General Hospital, I actually felt more fear because of the policemen and the guns they wore on their hips than I did from the disturbed prisoners."

Ms. White said functional nervous disease is among the most baffling of the many problems which confront medical practitioners.

She said that there are some researchers who are convinced that mental disturbances are the product of some chemical imbalance or the result of a viral infection.

The problem of mental illness is much more than a mere medical anomaly; it has far-reaching social, eugenic, and economic effects as well.

From the available statistical data, it appears that persons suffering from mental illness occupy as many hospital beds — if not more — than do people suffering from all other diseases combined.

It was refreshing to hear Ms. White say that terms such as 'crazy', 'lunatic', or 'insane' no longer have any credence in the psychiatric milieu or working vocabulary.

"The professionals have long since recognized that the application of inflammatory nouns does nothing except exacerbate a situation," she said.

Evidently, those people who have experienced a mental illness are viewed by far too many in the general population as being 'different' or have a threatening influence.

"There is no reason for people to feel uncomfortable around someone who has been remitted to society," said Ms. White.

She recalled that in her first few weeks at Heritage Hospital, she could sense that many of her professional colleagues gave her 'a wide path' when she would come into the cafeteria or when they would meet, in some other area.

"Apparently there was a feeling that because I worked with mentally ill people, I might be carrying a bug which was contagious. While that attitude still persists, I think there has been some progress in getting our discipline understood and hence accepted."

"There is one nurse, who when she manages to find some free time, actually comes into the mental health service and gives us help.

"The anxiety levels have been reduced," she said, "in direct proportion to the level of understanding experienced by the remainder of the hospital staff."

Ms. White made a point which I found to be interesting. "You must remember that there are those people who, by all objective standards, would test as being highly intelligent. Yet, despite their presumed intelligence, they can not integrate their emotional drives to accommodate themselves in the social complex of the contemporary society. At least they can not achieve this accommodation in a manner acceptable to themselves and useful to society."

The obvious conclusion, then, is that mental illness can strike a ny one and is not the sole province of the ignorant or uneducated.

She said that many people, perhaps every one of us at one time or another, has been convinced that we were being put upon, or misunderstood, or grossly mistreated. In those people suffering from mental illness, these relatively normal feelings become the dominant influence in their behavior patters. They become convinced that everyone is against them, and they become ridden with fears, doubts, and terrors — none of which are rational.

Such a condition is known as paranoia, and we plan to write about it next week after an interview with a practicing psychiatrist.

State redlining bill among nation's best

Probably the most comprehensive anti-redlining bill in the country has been unanimously approved by the Michigan Senate.

The bill (HB 4227) cleared the House last July. The legislation was signed by the Governor and goes into effect next year.

Legislators, with cooperation from financial lending institutions, the state coalition on redlining, and others spent hundreds of hours hammering out a policy agreeable to all parties concerned.

Redlining is the denial or limitation of mortgages or home improvement loans for reasons other than an applicant's credit rating. Many of the reasons believed to be factors in loan denials center around the age of a home, geographic location, ethnic and/or racial composition of the neighborhood.

The practice of redlining often contributes to the decline of older parts of the city, usually the inner city, through mortgage and home improvement loan discrimination by private financial institutions.

The measure will outlaw the practice of redlining in granting of home mortgages and home improvement loans. It will also prohibit the offering of less desirable loan terms for factors other than credit worthiness.

The definition of mortgage in its application to residential areas was clarified by Senate amendments. They also provided that all hearings held relative to the act would be in accordance with the administrative procedures act.

Once the bill is in effect it will require lending institutions to disclose where loans are being made, how many loans are being made and the amount of these loans. In addition, lending institutions will be required to disclose the average down payment, the average terms of the loans granted, the number of applications denied and the reasons for denial.

Credit granting institutions must apply uniform policies of interest rate, terms of maturity, percentages required for down payment, and application of appraisal procedures within given geographic area. The legislation emphasizes individual consideration for each loan and reasons for each denial must be spelled out in written statements.

The Majority Leader
State Senator William Faust
13th District

A complaint mechanism has also been set up through this bill. If an individual feels they have been discriminated against in obtaining a home improvement or mortgage loan, they may file a complaint with the Financial Institutions Bureau. In addition, the legislation has set up voluntary mortgage review boards so that most problems can be resolved on the local level.

Institutions found in violation of the measure will be subject to a fine up to $10,000.

A special thanks for Pat Cullin

To The Editor:

A special word of thanks goes to Van Buren Township Supervisor, Mrs. Patricia Cullin, for another demonstration of her leadership abilities.

In a recent survey of 44 Wayne County communities, John Barr, Chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, requested the individual communities to evaluate the helpfulness of seven (7) Sheriff's units facing cut-backs or elimination as a result of Wayne County's financial predicament. Among these seven is the Sheriff's Township Road Patrol.

According to the Detroit News (October 18, 1977) Van Buren Township did NOT respond.

Mrs. Cullin's priorities in representing the needs of Van Buren Township residents obviously do not include adequate law enforcement or the need for continuation of the Township Patrols would have been vigorously supported by the elected administration.

The Van Buren Supervisor will most likely REACT to the crisis only after this unit is eliminated.

Then, we, the taxpayers, can prepare ourselves to listen to Mrs. Cullin's campaign speeches about the need for higher taxes to finance a full-time local police force.

Thanks for your representation!

Presents facts on Doug Baum

To The Editor:

As a member of Mr. Doug Baum's "Citizens' Advisory Committee" for the schools, I would like to present some of the facts concerning the findings of the Advisory Committee and the conduct of its members in rebuttal to Ellen Grishaber's verbal attacks concerning Mr. Baum.

Many hours were spent as a fact finding committee. The Romulus Board of Education was very cooperative. All information we asked for was made available as soon as possible after our request was made. If the committee felt that it needed additional information from the board, Mr. Garfield makes it a point to also attend our meetings on request from the members. Also at times Mr. Fischer and Mr. Janack were in attendance.

After weeks of discussion and reviewing documented information furnished by the school board and the State Board of Education in Lansing, even Mrs. Grishaber agreed that the Romulus Board of Education needed the additional millage, but would not vote for it because she insisted that the district was operating schools below capacity.

There was never at any time any political speeches made for or against any candidate for public office. Mrs. Lynn Slaughter, a member of the advisory committee and a Troutt supporter, I'm sure would verify this statement.

On one occasion before our meeting was under way, Mr. Baum overheard a conversation among some of the members concerning debts incurred by the candidates. Mr. Baum commented that Mr. Troutt has paid for his first wife's funeral arrangements promptly. This was the extent of the discussion concerning Mr. Troutt's wife.

Also, there were no slanderous remarks levied towards Mrs. Lombardi or Mr. Avery. When Mrs. Grishaber says, "they even called the city assessor 'stupid'", she has to be referring to all members on that committee, and should be ashamed of her actions against along with her opinions towards the members of this committee. In closing, I would like to commend Mr. Troutt for not using any of Mrs. Grishaber's false information in his campaign material.

Lauds residents for self-help

To The Editor:

During the past few months of gathering factual information regarding our school district and the serious problems we are facing, I feel a big step forward has been taken. The residents of the city of Romulus have accepted the responsibility of facing and solving their own problems.

The parents and residents care deeply about the education their children will receive. I have found the majority are willing to listen to all sides.

Going from school to school reporting the information gathered in Lansing was truly an education in itself. The people who came, really listened, and many took part by asking questions and expressing their own views. All of which were brought out in the open and discussed freely. The most impressive thing was, everyone listened to all viewpoints.

The cooperation my committee received from everyone was greatly appreciated by myself and everyone concerned.

The State Department of Education was willing to help by offering assistance in any way possible.

The local board along with Mr. Garfield, Mr. Fischer, and Mr. Janack were extremely helpful in answering questions and giving whatever information we requested. Mr. Baum and the Advisory Committee were also supportive of this effort. Most of the members were quite willing to listen to the information we gathered. By putting all the information together, a better view of the situation was obtained. Both groups were working toward the same goal, "quality education for every child in this district."

By accepting the responsibility of "helping ourselves" solve the districts problems, we have laid the foundation for a working relationship between the state, local board, and the residents of this community.

Mrs. Sandra F. Langley
Chairperson Lansing Committee
Romulus

Says thanks for millage

To The Editor:

On behalf of the majority of the students in Romulus, we would all like to thank you for the passing of the millage on the November 8 election ballot. We hope that the school officials, the school administration, and teachers can put this money to good use and show the people how desperately it is needed.

The passing of the millage will give us money to resume the activities offered by the Romulus schools, and it's about time that the students got to maintain their participation in these activities, such as the winter, spring, and summer sports, student council and class council with class trips.

The majority of the credit for the passing of the millage should be given to Mr. Doug Baum and his Citizens' Advisory Committee for their factual findings, and to Mrs. Langley and her Lansing Committee for their interest in helping our schools, but a special thanks should be given to the 2,798 citizens who voted "YES."

Thank-you for bringing the students of Romulus back to life.

Elections—an exciting time in reporting

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

One of the most exciting roles of a newspaperman is to cover the news at election time.

There's something intriguing, downright fascinating about the political process and seeing two hard-fighting campaigners battle down to the final wire to see who will be elected to office.

No one questions the right of each candidate to "pull out all the stops" and do his dead-level best to beat his opponent and win the office he seeks.

However, in seeking high office, a candidate must always remember to keep his actions, as well as his goals, very high.

If there is one thing that has disappointed me over the years, both as an individual and a newspaperman, is the low-level to which some candidates will stoop to win election.

You can only wonder, if they will use any tactics to win an election, what will they do after they are in office?

Romulus has just suffered through the throes of another election. The people have spoken and a new administration has been sworn in.

Little did I realize that when the Managing Editor assigned me to Romulus, that I would become, in a small part at least, an issue in the campaign.

I'll admit I'm a little naive and tend to believe everybody when they tell me something. That's how my mother and father raised me. Trust people, they said, until they give you reason not to trust them any longer.

Well, I learned a lot in this election -- by watching, observing and listening to people. I couldn't believe some of the things that were said about other people.

I argued with others that things were not as they seemed. Then came the great awakening -- some people are chronic liars, some will distort the truth while dancing on the Bible and others will pat you on the back while looking for a convenient place to sink a knife.

As I said, reporters are to do just that -- report. However, as I began to do some investigative digging and came out with some news stories that did not show some people in good light, it seemed I, along with a few of my writing colleagues, became the subjects of some writers' stories.

Although Terry Troutt told me personally he did not condone some of the stories in the Romulus Democrat-Canon, everyone in Romulus seemed convinced he was the "unseen hand doing the writing through others."

I like Terry Troutt. After all, he's from Missouri -- and so is my wife. If people can accuse me of being in collusion with Helen Gallien because she's Baptist, why can't others say I'm for Terry Troutt because he and my wife are both from Missouri?

For that matter, Terry has gone to the Baptist Church quite a few times in his life, although he honestly told me he didn't go as often as he should.

But then, I know quite a few who "don't go as often as they should", don't you?

In wrapping up this election campaign in Romulus, I sat at the inauguration Monday at City Hall and saw everyone so beautifully dressed. Women were dressed in their beautiful gowns and the men were nattily attired in their finest suits and ties.

The ministers spoke eloquently of the elected officials' duty to unite their city. The preacher read from the Bible the leader's role according to God's view.

Another minister prayed for guidance for the elected leaders and a city employee, Fred Nelson, read a stirring rendition of a poem he had written about "this city...this city...this city..."

Then came two disturbing events which chilled the scene which was to "begin a new day for Romulus."

First, James Stewart, still seething with bitterness over losing the election and spewing his venom at his antagonists in the crowd, said he's like to see them "rot in hell!"

Secondly, Beverly McAnally sat rudely in her seat while newly-elected mayor, Bill Oakley, strode to the podium to a standing ovation from the overflow crowd.

One could only wonder who they were listening to when the ministers spoke, Fred Nelson read his stirring poem -- and each of the newly elected officials made a compassionate plea to all work in harmony.

Reflections

Nobody has a grandson like me

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

One of my best friends spent thirty-five years not letting her kid grow up. When at last the daughter discovered she was a woman, she was so delighted she went right out and made my friend a grandmother.

All of us were terribly glad that she did, because in the nine months between her daughter's finding out she was a grown-up and making her mother a grandmother, my friend couldn't play a single hand of bridge.

The cards would be dealt to her and before she picked them up she would flex her fingers and stretch out her arms and moan, "My arms are so empty. I'm baby-hungry. Why did God take my little girl away from me."

No matter how much we tried to tell her God had nothing to do with it, unless you could blame Him for filling humans with the biological urge, she would still moan, "My arms are so empty, why, God, why?"

You can see why we were all tickled when she became a grandmother. That is, we were tickled until we found out what being a grandmother did to her.

It got so I hated to hear my telephone ring.

"Guess what my precious grandson did today?" she would gurgle the minute you said "hello."

"He burped," I'd say.

"How did you guess?" she would ask.

When the little boy reached three years my friend was feeling sorry for all of her friends who didn't have a genius for a grandson.

"My grandson," she told us happily one evening, "tried to nail me to my rocking chair did you ever! I tell you he has a genius IQ."

"How come you didn't let him?" Mabel asked.

"Well, I really did think he should be able to try, but his mother thought he was too young to be playing with nails," I said.

The next week found my friend sitting at the card table beaming, while it was obvious her secret was almost choking her.

"Well," said Mabel. "What did boy - genius do this week?"

"Oh, you'll never guess what he said, 'my friend sputtered. 'One day he went out in the back yard and 'wee-wee'd' in the bushes, and guess what he said when his mother asked him why he did that?'"

"What did he say?" Mabel sighed.

"He said he was only wanting to make a rainbow."

"Six of Spades," groaned my friends' partner.

"Double," said Mabel.

Ignoring her partner's bid my friend sat transfixed in her own thoughts.

"What do you suppose he will grow up to be?" she whispered, looking at each one of us over the top of her reading glasses.

"A pot-maker," howled Mabel.

"To hang on the end of his rainbow," sneaked Gladys.

That's when my friend stood up and said, "It's hard being the grandmother of a genius," and left.

'Walking with God'

And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him. Genesis 5:24.

This subject, I have chosen, in my judgment is one of the greatest to be selected from the Scripture. Out of this dull chapter there is a long account where nothing is marked but names, numbers, men who lived, reared families and died, until we come to Enoch, whose singular piety is recorded. His life of devotion to God was so unique that the Holy Spirit conferred a great degree of honor upon him. "And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him."

We are living in peculiar times, and in a specular age. Men of this day delight to walk in the realm of philosophy, to explore the strata of metaphysics, to soar to the stratosphere, to project new standards of morality and conduct, to postulate modernistic concepts of religious character, but few are willing to perform the fundamental requirements of an upright life. "To do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God". This is a challenge to you and me.

The Intimate Association: "Enoch walked with God". This walk with the Lord implies that Enoch was intimately acquainted with the Lord. There was a weighty friendship between the Lord and Enoch that was later illustrated in the life of Abraham. Eminent holiness and intimate Communion with God may be attained in the worst times. While that generation was running to ruin, Enoch walked with God.

The Illustrious Character: Enoch, signified dedication. His life answered to his name, for he lived the life of devotion to God. Enoch was a unique personality, and a singular character who lived a significant life. Enoch the devout patriarch, the fearless preacher, the fellow-traveller with God, the triumphant saint who did not see death, but was taken to heaven by the way of translation. He was an illustrious character whose name, record, and destiny will live freshly in human memory until the resurrection of the dead.

Enoch, the seventh from Adam, was the brightest star in the patriarchal Constellation. His record is short, but eloquent. It is brief and concise containing a few words, but every word, when placed under rigid examination expands indefinitely. Every virtue may be read into them, for he reached the point of renown in godliness. The Holy Spirit gives a summary statement, abbreviated to the very core, and recuded to its barest elements, the irreducible minimum. "Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him! Note and consider the content of his history, the brevity of his biography, the comparative shortness of his life, and the manifest singularity of his character.

The Fearless Preacher: Enoch also, the seventh from Adam Prophesied Jude 14, 15. He was a preacher of righteousness and a herald of judgment. The age calls for militant preachers. If this is a mission that calls for courage and militancy, it is the God-given mission of preaching. Preaching holds within its powers the destiny of mankind. It is an imperial business with imperative demands and eternal consequences.

Walking with God. To walk with God is to make it our fixed purpose and determination to live for Him, to devote our lives to His service. To walk with God is to acknowledge Him as our Sovereign and our Father, to set Him over before us, to live a life of hallowed communion with Him, to make His glory the great object and end of life, to seek to do only those things which are well-pleasing in His sight. To walk with God is to have our minds and will brought into subjection to His, to strive to do all that He would have us do, and be all He would have us be, to endeavor more and more to resemble Him, and to have taken from us whatever is contrary to Him. To walk with God is to love Him, to rejoice in his presence, to feel ourselves attracted towards Him, to have nothing more than His favor. Walking with God implies consciousness of the Divine presence, harmony with the divine will, and progress in the divine excellence.

God Took Enoch Away: Away from the society of ungodly men, from their taunts and persecutions. Away from the wicked over which he mourned. Away from the privations of this wilderness state. Away from the many ills to which the flesh is heir, and the peculiar troubles which afflict the righteous. Enoch changed his place, but not his company, for he still walked with God.

3 Romulus men join Air Forces' DEP

Three Romulus residents have entered the Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP), according to Air Force recruiter S. Sgt. Jim Cole of Garden City.

Enlisting in the Air Force were Roger G. Holland, 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Holland of Sibley, Larry M. Manders, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Manders of King Road, Romulus, and George W. Heath Jr., the son of Mrs. Mavis Akers of Colbert, Romulus.

The trio's entry into the DEP program serves two purposes. It allows the Air Force to schedule them to attend basic military training and be assigned to a job or skill area. The DEP also enables them to complete their high school education and wrap up personal affairs before commencing four years of active duty.

Manders, 18, is a 1977 graduate of Woodhaven High School. He will be reporting for active duty on April 1, 1978 to undergo six weeks of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He then will receive training as an Avionic Inertial and Radar Navigation Systems specialist, before being assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Also in the armed forces: Navy Hospitalman Appren. Russell L. Miller, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Miller of Frankfort Street, New Boston, has graduated from the Navy's Hospital Corps School.

During the 10-week course at the Naval Hospital Corps School at Great Lakes, Ill., he received instruction on the basic medical procedures used by hospital corpsman as they assist Navy doctors and nurses.

Pvt. Gilbert R. Thom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Thom of Liberty Street, Belleville, recently received a Parachutist Badge after completing the 3-week airborne course at the U.S. Army Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga.

During the first week of training he underwent a rigorous physical training program and received instruction in the theory of parachuting. The second week he received practical training by jumping from 34-foot and 250-foot towers, while the final week included five static-line parachute jumps.

Pvt. Thom entered the Army in May 1977.

stepson of James A. Ruark of Cordell, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Depot at San Diego, Calif.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival.

A 1977 graduate of Romulus Senior

High School, he joined the Marine Corps in June 1977.

FUNERALS FOR THE MILITARY AND FRATERNAL
When a veteran's military funeral and burial is required, there are specific ceremonies, equipment and procedures that must be adhered to—and exactly! We have the proper ceremonial equipment and are well-versed in military protocol so that we can provide services "by the book" in honoring the veteran in his final hour.
Fraternal orders, such as the Masons, also have specific funeral requirements. We have conducted many, many funerals for members of fraternal and religious orders, so we are used to handling those rituals so important to the brotherhoods.
If you would like to have advance information regarding military requirements and veteran's funeral and burial expense allowances, or about the many fraternal order funerals we have conducted, just call or drop by. We invite you to counsel with our funeral specialists, be he Masonic, military, K of C, Elks or any of the other fine groups in the area.

To modernize its scope

House bills would update zoning law

The House Towns and Counties Committee is considering a series of bills which would update and improve Michigan's zoning laws, according to State Rep. Thomas H. Brown (D-37th District), committee chairman.

"There is a definite need to make some major changes in zoning law,"

Brown said. "These enabling acts give local governments the primary tools to develop community patterns, yet they have not been extensively reviewed or revised in 30 to 50 years, which leaves them deficient in many areas."

"Public officials and citizens have found the laws vague, with requirements for unnecessary or inappropriate procedures, and out-of-date in that they do not provide local government with the powers needed to deal with modern community development problems."

Major changes made by the bills (HB 4591-94) include:

- Modernizing the scope and purpose of zoning to take into consideration such contemporary needs as environmental protection, conservation of resources and energy, and socially and economically sound land use patterns.

- Allowing local governments to adopt "planned unit development" regulations to encourage innovative layout and design of land development projects.

- Allowing publication of a notice of ordinance adoption which informs the public where the new zoning ordinance can be examined or obtained, rather than requiring publication of the entire ordinance in a local newspaper.

- Allowing a local government to require a cash deposit or other performance guarantee to insure completion of essential improvements such as landscaping, parking or lighting, associated with a project.

Volunteers get priority from VA

The Veterans Administration's (VA) Voluntary Service, a national program for volunteers in health care, is getting high priority from VA Administrator Max Cleland.

Cleland, himself a recipient of volunteer assistance while recovering in VA hospitals as a triple amputee from the Vietnam War, has called services by volunteers "one of the most meaningful and important contributions by Americans for the veteran."

veterans of benefits and services.

The VA's 31-year-old Voluntary Service Program for health care, established in 1946 by then-VA Administrator Gen. Omar N. Bradley, has accumulated more than 200 million hours of volunteer service, Weston said.

In 1976 alone, he added, nearly 110,000 volunteers provided more than 10 million hours of service to hospitalized veterans. It is one of the oldest and largest volunteer programs in America today.

At Cleland's direction, VA's Voluntary Service is now getting an entire new look, according to Paul Weston, who is managing the project as a special assistant to the VA administrator.

Weston said: "The VA has a special commitment to volunteers. Our VA health program could not have provided the quality of service it has over the years without them."

A national public awareness program has been launched to interest citizens in the program and to provide visibility for the more than 100,000 volunteers already involved in VA hospital care, he added.

"We are determined to treat the voluntary effort as having the highest priority. The services VA volunteers bring to us deserve this kind of attention."

With a new program slogan of "Volunteers Make a Difference" and a new symbol—the A-OK hand sign—presented in blue and yellow, the VA hopes to re-emphasize its voluntary service program.

The hospital director of the VA Hospital in Allen Park, A. Zamberlan, added: "We are very pleased to see this level of support for Voluntary Service coming from Washington. The 862 volunteers who have 101,939 hours of service to this hospital certainly are very special to us and to our patients."

VA also is conducting a national management study to assure its volunteer administration uses the best possible techniques. The study includes an analysis of possible new uses of volunteers in outreach programs to inform

For further information about voluntary service, contact Stephen Edward, chief of Voluntary Service, at 562-6000, ext. 592.

Snow Goose to air on 56

"The Snow Goose", the movie that won almost unanimous praise when it premiered on commercial television will have a repeat showing on Channel 56 Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. This movie is part of the Winter Wonderland of 56, an 11-day period of special programming starting Nov. 26.

"The Snow Goose" stars Richard Harris as a lonely, crippled painter rejected by society. The young British actress, Jenny Agutter, plays an orphan child who brings a wounded Canadian snow goose to the hunch-backed artist. Together they nurse it back to health, gradually discovering feelings for each other, as the child becomes a woman.

Paul Gallico is the author of the short story upon which "The Snow Goose" is based. He wrote the story against the backdrop of the Dunkirk evacuation during the early days of World War II. He said that he was so moved by the noble exploit, he wanted to dramatize the adventure for a generation who had never even heard of Dunkirk.

6B. Motion by Martin, supported by Oakley, to adopt resolution No. 77-695: --RESOLUTION 77-695

WHEREAS: Pepsi-Cola Metropolitan Bottling Company, Inc., a New Jersey corporation (the "Company"), a subsidiary of Pepsi Co., Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Parent"), proposes to construct a warehouse (the "Project") which shall be in the City of Romulus, Michigan (the "Municipality"); and

WHEREAS: By initiative petition the electors of the State of Michigan on November 2, 1976, approved Proposal "A" of 1976, which prohibits within the State of Michigan, the sale, offering for sale, or the giving to consumers of non-returnable containers or beverages on non-returnable containers (the "Beverage Containers Act"), and as a result it is necessary for the Company to acquire and construct the Project to enable compliance with the Beverage Containers Act; and

WHEREAS: The City Council deems it necessary for the public welfare of the Municipality in order to permit the accomplishment of the purposes intended by the Beverage Containers Act and to prevent conditions of unemployment and to assist and retain industry within the Municipality and to strengthen and revitalize the economy of the Municipality, that the Project be acquired; and

WHEREAS: The Company has requested the Municipality to issue industrial development bonds (the "Bonds") under the provisions of Act 62, Public Acts of Michigan, 1963, as amended (Act No. 62) for the purpose of acquiring the Project for sale or lease to the Company; and

WHEREAS: Act No. 62 authorizes the Municipality to acquire the Project, to enter into an installment sales contract or lease providing for the sale or lease thereof to the Company and for the payment of purchase installments or rentals therefor by the Company, and to finance all or part of the cost of the Project by issuing the Bonds of the Municipality; and

WHEREAS: The Municipality has been advised that the estimated cost of the Project (including costs incidental to the issuance of Bonds by the Municipality) is not to exceed Three Million ($3,000,000) Dollars; and WHEREAS: It is contemplated that if the estimated aggregate cost of the Project and of the cost of issuing Bonds is hereafter determined to exceed such amount, the Company may request the Municipality to authorize and issue Bonds in the amount of such excess; and

WHEREAS: The Company will acquire the Project and it is proposed and intended that the Municipality will then acquire the same from the company and will enter into an installment sales contract or lease with the Company with respect to the Project; and

WHEREAS: It is appropriate that a notice of intention to issue Bonds up to the aggregate principal amount of Three Million ($3,000,000) Dollars be published in order to comply with the requirements of Act No. 62; and WHEREAS: Under the provisions of Act No. 62, it is necessary to obtain the approval of the Municipal Finance Commission of the State of Michigan for the issuance of Bonds; and

WHEREAS: It is necessary to assure the Company that the Municipality will issue Bonds upon meeting the requirements of Act No. 62, it being the intent and purpose of the City Council in adopting this resolution to provide such commitment of the Municipality to issue Bonds with respect to the Project as will satisfy the requirements of Section 103 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That:

1. The Municipality determines that it is necessary and appropriate and a proper public purpose of the Municipality, in order to protect the public health, safety and welfare of the residents of the Municipality, to authorize the acquisition of the Project and sale or lease of the same to the Company and the issuance and sale of Bonds to defray the costs thereof and the costs incidental to the issuance of Bonds.

2. In accordance with Act No. 62 and the provisions of this resolution, the Municipality agrees to issue the Bonds in an amount not exceeding Three Million ($3,000,000) Dollars and with the proceeds thereof to acquire the Project and pay costs incidental to the issuance of the Bonds; it being the understanding of the Municipality that if the total cost of the Project and of costs to issue Bonds shall exceed such amount the Municipality may give consideration, upon request of the Company, to authorizing Bonds in the amount of such excess. The Mayor is authorized, on behalf of the Municipality, to negotiate the terms of and, after approval thereof by the City Council, execute and deliver (i) to the Company, an installment sales contract or lease pursuant to which the Municipality would acquire the Project or portions thereof and sell or lease the same to the Company and the Company would agree to pay installment payments or rentals therefor sufficient to retire the Bonds, to operate, maintain and keep the Project in repair, and to fully protect the Municipality from any and all costs and liabilities with respect thereto and to provide remedies to the Municipality in the event of default, (ii) to a trustee for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds, a guarantee by the Parent for the payment of the Bonds, (iii) to a trustee, a resolution or resolutions or indenture or indentures which will incorporate provisions usual in such instruments, including but not limited to provisions with respect to the disbursement of the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds, the security for the Bonds, the remedies of the bondholders and the trustee and the rights of the Municipality, the Company and the Trustee with respect to the Project and the Bonds, and (iv) to underwriters or bond purchasers, an agreement or agreements for the sale of the Bonds by the Municipality.

3. The Bonds shall not be a general obligation or debt of the Municipality but shall be revenue bonds payable as to both principal and interest solely from the net revenues derived from the Project including proceeds of payments to be made to the Municipality by the Company or the Parent as shall be provided in the installment sales contract or lease to be executed by the Municipality and the Company and the Guarantee to be executed by the Parent prior to the sale of the Bonds. The proceedings and agreements relating to the acquisition, installation and use of the Project and the issuance of Bonds to be adopted or undertaken shall contain such provisions as shall be necessary to make absolutely clear and certain that under no circumstances will the Municipality, or its citizens or taxpayers, ever be required to pay from tax revenues or other general funds of the Municipality any principal of or interest on the Bonds or any other costs or expenses relating to the Bonds or the Project and shall, to the extent required by law, be subject to approval by the Municipal Finance Commission of the State of Michigan.

4. All costs and expenses in connection with the authorization, issuance, sale and delivery of Bonds and of the acquisition, installation, utilization, maintenance, repair and operation of the Project shall be paid either from the proceeds of sale of the Bonds and other revenues, if any, derived from the Project or by the Company and the proceedings and agreements relating thereto, as hereinafter adopted and undertaken, shall so provide.

5. The Bonds will be sold to the purchaser or purchasers thereof designated by the Company and there is authorized to be prepared from time to time to describe and to be used in connection with the sale of Bonds a preliminary official statement, or statements, provided, however, that no preliminary official statement shall be circulated unless any description of the Municipality, the Bonds and documents to which the Municipality is a party shall have been approved by bond counsel and the City Attorney for the Municipality.

6. The City Clerk is authorized and empowered from time to time to execute and file, at such times as he shall determine and at such times as he shall have been provided with appropriate information, an application or applications to the Municipal Finance Commission for an order or orders granting permission for the issuance of Bonds.

7. A notice of intention to issue Bonds (as contemplated by and containing the information required by Act No. 62) shall be published at least once with respect to the issuance of Bonds clearly setting forth:

(i) The intention of the Municipality to issue the Bonds in the principal amount of up to Three Million ($3,000,000) Dollars, maturing up to 40 years from issuance at interest rates not in excess of the maximum permitted by law for the purpose of financing all or part of the cost of acquiring the Project and costs incidental to issuance of the Bonds;

(ii) The fact that the Bonds may be issued from time to time in one or more series;

(iii) The fact that the Project will be sold or leased to the Company;

(iv) The fact that the Bonds will be issued in accordance with the provisions of Act No. 62 and that the principal and interest thereon will not be a general obligation or debt of the Municipality and will in no event be payable from any tax revenues or other general funds of the Municipality but will be payable solely and only from payments to be received from the Company or the Parent and other net revenues, if any, derived from the Project;

(v) The fact that the notice is given to and for the benefit of the electors of the Municipality in order to inform them that the Bonds will be issued without submitting the question of issuance to the electors, unless within 45 days from the publication of the notice a petition signed by not less than 5 percent of the registered electors requesting a referendum upon the question of the issuance of the Bonds is filed, and specifying that in such event the Bonds will not be issued unless and until approved by a majority of the electors voting at a general or special election; and

(vi) Such other facts and circumstances as may be deemed appropriate by the City Clerk, the City Attorney and bond counsel to fully inform the electors of the Municipality with respect to the transaction and as may be required by law.

The notice shall be in such form, not inconsistent with the provisions of Act No. 62 and this resolution, as the City Clerk shall, with the advice of the City Attorney and bond counsel, determine and approve. Such notice of intention to issue Bonds with respect to any proposed issuance of Bonds shall be published at such time as the City Clerk shall, with the advice of the City Attorney and bond counsel, determine, in a newspaper of general circulation in the Municipality which at the time is a newspaper in which announcements of the Municipality are generally published. The published form of the notice of intention to issue Bonds shall occupy an area of at least 1/4 of a normal newspaper page.

8. The City Council determines that the form of notice of intention authorized and the manner of publication directed is a reasonable and effective method of giving such notice and that the same is adequate notice to electors of the Municipality as the nature and extent of the obligations to be represented by the Bonds, and any issue thereof, and as the right of referendum, considering all of the circumstances, including the cost of and availability of other means of notice and the facts that:

(a) The Bonds will be limited obligations of the Municipality, and the payment of the principal and interest thereon is to be made solely from net revenues to be received from the Project and the payments to be made by the Company or the Parent.

(b) The Bonds will not constitute a general obligation of the Municipality nor constitute a debt of the Municipality within the meaning of any constitutional, statutory or charter limitation.

(c) The Municipality will not be obligated to assess any taxes whatsoever for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

(d) No elector of the Municipality will be required to pay any fees or charges in connection with the Project and all expenses in connection therewith are required to be borne by the Company.

9. Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone is hereby designated and retained by the Municipality as bond counsel with respect to the Bonds, and is hereby authorized and directed to prepare and submit to the appropriate parties all proceedings, agreements and other documents as shall be necessary or appropriate in connection with the issuance of the Bonds, and the legal fee and expenses of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone shall be paid from the proceeds of the Bonds and in any event shall be at no cost to the Municipality.

10. All resolutions and parts of resolutions insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this resolution be and the same hereby are rescinded.

8A. Motion by McAnally, supported by Lee, to adopt resolution No. 77-698:

RESOLUTION 77-698

We deplore the extent to which Michigan's nursing home system ensures neither high quality of care for its 40,000 patients, nor adequate protection from misuse of the $300 million of taxpayer's monies involved. On behalf of Michigan's taxpayers and its most vulnerable older citizens, we support Senate Bill 659 with its provisions that:

1. Staff patterns and training be upgraded and regulated effectively.

2. Quality of care violations be subject to sanctions according to severity of violation.

3. Strong sanction be instituted for fraudulent practices including false advertising, financial kickbacks, and misrepresentation of the facts.

4. Legal safeguards be defined for a wide variety of patient rights including protection of personal property, the right of privacy and prohibitions against acute or punitive relocations of residents.

5. Nursing homes be required to exhaust federal medicare dollars prior to seeking reimbursement through state Medicaid funds.

Motion by Raspberry, supported by Martin, to adopt Resolution No. 77-694.

RESOLUTION 77-694

WHEREAS: The procedure specified in the Charter for the City of Romulus for the vacation and discontinuance of an alley having been complied with and no objections having been heard at the public hearing held for such purpose on Tuesday, November 1, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. in the Romulus City Council Chambers.

BE IT RESOLVED: That the City of Romulus considering it necessary for the health, safety, welfare and comfort of the people of the municipality, hereby vacates and discontinues the following described alley which is located in the City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan.

Respectfully submitted,
Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk
City of Romulus

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the Minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Romulus City Council held November 1, 1977.

Scouting does 'good turn' for League-Goodwill Dec. 3

Scouting's Annual Good Turn for the Handicapped Workers of League-Goodwill will be held on Dec. 3.

Nearly 10,000 Scouts and their Leaders, 70 semi-trucks and trailers, volunteer unloading crews and workers from League-Goodwill will be involved in the project, which provides employment opportunities for the handicapped and recycles materials back into the economy. The clothing is processed and sold in Goodwill retail stores, thereby generating funds to pay wages, and the newspapers are processed by other League-Goodwill workers into a fire-retardant insulation material for use in homes.

The Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, has conducted a clothing drive to help the handicapped on a regular basis since 1954. According to Scout officials, the Good Turn Day provides the boys with an opportunity to see the direct results of their efforts to help others. Benefits are derived not only by League-Goodwill's handicapped workers, but also by moderate and low income families who are looking for ways to stretch their incomes.

This is the second year the Scouts have engaged in a newspaper collection drive as part of their national Save-A-Tree Campaign. League-Goodwill processes the newspaper into insulation, under an agreement with an Ohio firm, for distribution to the public through retail outlets. Individuals may purchase the insulation at League-Goodwill stores as well. The product has a high "R" factor rating, and may be installed in attics on a do-it-yourself basis. The plant, which employs handicapped workers, consumes from 15 to 20 tons of old newspapers daily. If the papers were stacked one on top of the other, the pile would be higher than any building in Detroit.

The Scouts will distribute Good Turn clothing bags to a quarter million homes throughout the metropolitan area on Saturday. Two weeks later, on Dec. 3, the Scouts will return to collect the clothing and papers.

Householders receiving a Good Turn bag are urged to fill it with clothing and place it on the front porch by 9 a.m. Dec. 3. Grocery bags and plastic rubbish bags also may be used, and the Scouts will pick them up. The Scouts will make the pickup, even if the weather is unfavorable.

Old newspapers should be tied in bundles or placed in grocery bags for easy handling.

Pack 739 readies for first meeting

The Cubs of Pack 739 of Merriman Elementary School are happily looking forward to their first pack meeting on Nov. 22.

Pack 739 had a slow start this year because of the failure of the school millage, a spokesman said, which kept schools closed to after-school activities. The spokesman went on to say that with the permission of Supt. James Garfield and Merriman School Principal Richard Goode, the pack was able to begin its weekly den meetings.

Awards will be given out to Cubs at the November meeting. There also will be some new pack members, as well as leaders, at the meeting.

Cubmaster Paul C. Michael will be back as cubmaster to get things started on the right foot.

The special Scout-O-Rama patches will be handed out to those Cubs who participated in the Scouting program. Those Cubs who participated in the cleanup Project Soar for the school fair last year also will receive "Soar" patches.

With the help of the new leaders, Pack 739 is looking forward to a very good year, the spokesman added.

Thank You

I would like to personally thank everyone that expressed their faith in me on November 8. It has been a privilege to serve the people of the City of Romulus for the past 17 years, and I look forward, with great expectation, to the challenge of my new position of trust. I again pledge a total commitment to work for the best interests of the city and its residents as your Treasurer. Thank you.

Newlywed Sayres honeymoon in Florida

Newlyweds Tom and Judy Sayre, who returned last week from a 2-week honeymoon in the South (which included Disney World at Orlando, Fla. and several days in Myrtle Beach, S. C.) are making their home for the next few months on Tyler Road, Belleville.

The new Mrs. Sayre was Judith Ann Hudge when she exchanged wedding bands and nuptial vows with Thomas James Sayre at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. For the occasion the altar was appointed with two vases of white snapdragons, blue baby's breath and fall leaves.

The Oct. 28 ceremony at sundown united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hudge of 14075 Elwell Rd., Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sayre of 6585 Morton Taylor Road, Belleville.

The Rev. Raymond Skoney presided at the candlelight rite before some 300 assembled relatives and friends including the couple's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hess of Orlando, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wales of Ypsilanti and Mrs. La Verne Sayre of Belleville.

The bride and her father entered the church to the organ procession played by Mrs. Rita Clark. For her wedding day, Judy selected a toe-touching gown of white bridal chiffon designed with a softly flared skirt which drifted into a chapel train as she walked. Styling details on the little fitted bodice included long, full sleeves which ended in lace wristpoint cuffs, a high lace neckline and illusion insert accented with re-embroidered petit pointe lace.

The lace motif was repeated on the bride's cathedral-length silk illusion veil which was caught to a little lace cap. Completing her bridal finery was a clutch bouquet of white phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, baby carnations and baker's fern tied with white velvet streamers.

As honor attendant for her best friend, Sheila Joy Stabnau of Belleville donned a polyester knit gown in romance blue fashioned with a criss-crossed draped bodice with narrow straps leading to a clasp at the back of the neck. A matching chiffon capelet, cut in graduated lengths, was made with a high ring collar of polyester knit. She wore a matching blue silk rose trimmed with fern and baby's breath in her hair and carried a nosegay arrangement of blue silk roses, brown Baker's fern, dried baby's breath and white bunny tails tied with white velvet streamers.

The two bridesmaids, dressed in identical fashions, were the bride's sister, Cynthia Marie Hudge, and a cousin, Susan Camille Smith, who were home for the week-end from Michigan State University and Western Michigan University, respectively.

Jeffrey Sayre, a junior at MSU, was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were another MSU student, Jeffrey Smith, and the bride's brother, Michael Hudge.

Dinner and dancing at Roma's of Ann Arbor followed the mid-autumn wedding. Hosts and hostesses for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. R. Lynne Hamilton, cousins of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert G. Smith, uncle and aunt of the bride. They, along with the grandparents, were honored with flowers as was the bride's Godmother, Mrs. Joseph E. Ross of Belleville.

The 300 guests were greeted by the bride's mother in a long qiana gown of dusty rose worn with grey accessories and the bridegroom's mother wearing a seafoam green dress with a long companion coat featuring a jeweled neckline. Both were presented with gardenia corsages which they pinned to their handbags.

Tom and Judy are both 1976 graduates of Belleville High School. She is currently employed at E & V Plastic Plating Company of Belleville and he is affiliated with his family at Sayre and Sons Produce Farm of Belleville. The young couple also belong to the Wayne County Young Farmers Club.

The rehearsal dinner, held at the Roman Forum in Westland, was hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

Degree of Honor Lodge 132 hosts N-S Rally at IOOF Hall

Degree of Honor Lodge 132 was host to the North-South Michigan Rally of the Degree of Honor Protective Association Oct. 24 at the IOOF Hall in Belleville. Lodgers represented were Lincoln Park 114, Maple Leaf 62, Douglas 9 and Lansing 44.

Betty Au Buchon, national outer watch, and Vernetta Allen, national committee woman on Welfare, plus 21 state officers were present.

Evelyn Arnold, president of Lodge 132, and her corps of officers welcomed the national and state officers and a record crowd from throughout the state of Michigan.

The evening began with a potluck chicken and ham dinner served in a dining room decorated in fall colors.

The invocation was given by State 2nd Vice-President Hazel Hanson; the address of welcome by State Escort and Lodge 132 Past President Dorothy Crook, and the response by President of Douglas Lodge 9 Myrtle Schmid.

After dinner, films taken by Roland Au Buchon at the Seattle National Convention in August were shown.

Several new members were initiated into the various lodges with all five lodges taking part. Betty Au Buchon spoke on "Insurance, Fraternal Family Affair." State officer Glenrose Barthmuss lead the State Glee Club and all members in singing, "Let There be Peace on Earth." The meeting closing with punch and refreshments.

A representative from the club was to participate in a General Federation of Women's Clubs Leaders' Training Day (a conservation seminar working with the Michigan Energy Commission and Shell Oil Company) and a "Day In Jail" — a citizen involvement crime reduction seminar held in Lansing Nov. 15 and 16. The club's guest night Dec. 1 will be the dinner theatre at Vittorio's in Livonia.

The club is again sponsoring, jointly with the Junior Study Club, its second "Christmas Cash" raffle. The raffle will award cash prizes to winners at the conclusion of the Santa Claus Parade held in Belleville Dec. 17. Tickets are available from any member.

NBD representative is Study Club guest

The November meeting of the Woman's Study Club, held at the Lemontree Clubhouse, featured an address by Ronald Margittay who is with the National Bank of Detroit's foreign exchange department.

Margittay, who resides in Dearborn, told briefly of the workings of the exchange, and NBD's role in the program. He advised the group on ways to insure getting the best exchange for their American money when traveling abroad, on sending money abroad, told of things to avoid and answered numerous questions from club members.

Hostesses for the evening were International Affairs Chairman Mary Boyd, Jeri Knight and Jessica Van Syckle.

Vicki Henry feted at bridal shower

The UAW Hall in Garden City, decorated in shades of green, was the setting for the bridal shower given for Vicki Lynn Henry on Oct. 23. Candles and a Christmas theme were used in keeping with the honoree's upcoming December wedding.

A buffet dinner, games and prizes rounded out the afternoon for some 70 guests who arrived from Clinton, Detroit, Livonia, Garden City, Dearborn, Warren, Sterling Heights and Belleville for the occasion.

Hostesses at the party were the bride-elect's future attendants: Sharon Henry Berg, Diane and Sondra Henry and Dawn Guzowski, who will be bridesmaids; Linda Gross, the maid-of-honor, and Kathy Perry Block, who's to be matron of honor. Corsages in green were worn by the group who also presented them to the bride-to-be, her mother, Mrs. Ray Henry, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Frank Guzowski.

While their ladies were busy socializing, the men watched the football game and enjoyed refreshments at the Frank Guzowski home.

Vicki will become Mrs. Michael Guzowski on Dec. 16 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Calling all recipes

In a few short weeks, Associated newspapers will be including a special holiday recipe tab in with your regular newspaper. In order to offer a variety of interesting dishes, we are asking that you culinary artists in Belleville, Van Buren, Romulus, Huron, New Boston and Sumpter as well as all our readers in outlying areas submit your own favorites.

We are not merely looking for cookie and cake recipes but everything from appetizers to after-dinner cordials. How about Aunt Esther's special squash casserole or cousin Lou's cheeseball.

Punch concoctions would be a most welcome addition to any kitchen file what with those big holidays just on the horizon. And how about those nibbles and snacks you've found so delicious over the years.

Be it hors d'oeuvres, soup, salad, entree, vegetable, cake, pie, cookie, dessert or beverage, we want to include you in our holiday tab.

Deadline for submitting recipes is Nov. 18. Send your favorites to Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, 116 Fourth St., Belleville, 48111.

Money matters seminar for women set for Dec. 2

A 1-day seminar on Money Matters and Management will be held Dec. 3 at Holiday Inn West, 2900 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor. The program is for women of all ages and backgrounds who want to be more in control of their money matters.

Topics at the seminar will include: "So You've Come into a Lot of Money"; "Services You CAN and SHOULD Expect from a Bank"; "Real Estate as an Investment"; "Common Sense in Buying and Maintaining a Car"; "Getting More out of Your Travel Dollar"; "Warranties and Reality"; "Equal Credit Opportunity Act" and "Personal Budgeting, Bookkeeping, Saving."

Representatives from Campus Motors in Ypsilanti, Break-Away Travel in Ypsilanti, Manufacturers National Bank, Dearborn Public Schools and a financial consultant will conduct the 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. sessions.

Coffee, registration and a get-acquainted time will start the day from 8:30 to 9 a.m. The $25 fee will include the seminar, materials, coffee and lunch.

Dr. Doris Buhr Kilanski and Agnes Dobronski will conduct the program.

Dr. Kalanski is an associate professor in the Department of Educational Leadership at Eastern Michigan University. This will be the tenth special topic seminar she has conducted especially for women.

Ms. Dobronski is the director of business and finance for the Dearborn Public Schools.

To register, send a $10 check to Dr. Doris Buhr Kilanski, 6550 Hannan Rd., Wayne, Mich. 48184, as a non-refundable deposit for each participant for the seminar. The balance of $15 is to be paid on Dec. 4, the day of the program. The registration will be acknowledged with a receipt and a program for the day.

EMU nursing program gets state approval

The Eastern Michigan University nursing program has received full approval from the Board of Nursing of the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation.

Word of the approval came on the heels of the news that graduates of the EMU nursing program scored impressively on their 1977 nursing board examinations.

EMU nursing graduates attained the highest mean scores in the nation on that standardized test with 97 percent passing the exam. Two EMU graduates scored the highest of any nursing students taking the test.

Administered by the College of Human Services, the Department of Nursing Education graduated its first class of registered nurses in 1975. Total departmental enrollment currently is about 130 students and must be limited because of the availability of clinical facilities and other considerations.

Students are admitted to the nursing program only after they complete their freshman year. The program then occupies their studies full-time for three years — six consecutive semesters.

Recent employer surveys conducted under the direction of department head Janet S. Boyd showed the EMU graduates were capable and performing well. All of the employers surveyed, in fact, said they would hire another EMU graduate.

Because of the newly earned reputation of EMU's community-oriented nursing program and the popularity of health care professions, admission to EMU's program is highly competitive with many on a waiting list.

December chosen for wedding date

St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston has been reserved for the Dec. 9 wedding of Kimberly Ann Stedman and Louis J. Vena III, both of Belleville.

The young couple's engagement is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stedman of 20205 Savage Rd., Belleville, parents of the bride-elect.

Miss Stedman is a graduate of Aquinas High School in Southgate.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Vena Jr. of 36898 Judd Rd., Belleville, graduated from Huron High School in New Boston. He is currently employed at Vena's Excavation of Belleville.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID C. UMHOLTZ

Linda Thomas, Dave Umholtz marry at Romulus City Hall

The council chamber at Romulus City Hall was the setting Oct. 7 for the afternoon ceremony which united Linda Kay Thomas and David Charles Umholtz in holy matrimony.

Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart presided at the 5:30 p.m. rite before some 25 guests.

Parents of the young couple, all from Romulus, are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas of 13071 Homefield and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Umholtz of 28621 S. Maple.

For her wedding, Linda donned a gown of white chiffon with hand-clipped lace outlining the sweetheart neckline and lace appliques accenting the long full sleeves and hem of the gown's chapel train.

An openwork headdress of lace applique held the bride's illusion veil which was cut in midback length and a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and baby's breath encircled by white carnations completed her ensemble.

Attending the couple were Kathy Grabiec of Westland, the bride's best friend, and Anthony Humphrey of Romulus.

The honor maid wore a long gown of floral printed pink nylon and taffeta and a matching pink hat and held an arrangement of pink carnations.

Also in the wedding party were the 5-year-old flowergirl, Glenda Lynn Thomas, the bride's niece, and the 8-year-old ringbearer, Charles William Umholtz, the bridegroom's brother.

Glenda, who appeared in a little pink frock of nylon and cotton, held a bouquet of pink carnations.

Some 60 guests attending the reception at Leright's Banquet Room in Westland were greeted by Mrs. Thomas in a pink and white formal gown and the bridegroom's mother in white nylon. Both added corsages of pink carnations to their outfits.

The new Mrs. Umholtz, who is in her senior year at Romulus High School, is making her home temporarily with her bridegroom's parents in Romulus while he is serving with the U. S. Marine Corps on Olinawa in the Pacific Islands. He, too, is a Romulus High School graduate.

The rehearsal party, given by the bridal couple, was held at Brownie's Diner in Wayne.

Early deadline

Because Thanksgiving falls on our usual Suburban Living deadline day, Thursday, any news for these pages must be submitted by 2 p.m. one day earlier, on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

YMCA spearheads fitness program

The Metropolitan Detroit Area YMCA is spearheading a new fitness program concept that includes the screening and evaluation of all its fitness participants.

The screening process involves checking the four commonly accepted risk areas — smoking history, cholesterol, blood pressure and percent of body fat. Minimum risk levels have been established, using accepted medical standards and advice from the organization's Medical Advisory Committee.

If the screening indicates the risk results to be less than the established minimum, the participant then can participate in a fitness evaluation to include measuring cardio-respiratory endurance, body composition, flexibility and muscular strength and endurance.

The evaluations are used to measure a person's present fitness level compared to national averages.

The program will be Nov. 19 at 11 a.m. at the Wayne-Westland YMCA, 827 S. Wayne Road, Westland. The cost is $15 for members and $25 for non-members.

Registration can be completed by mail or by contacting the YMCA at 721-7044.

Mincemeat treats for the holidays

A tradition such as vinegar-mince meat pie lives long in New England where women have been known as fine cooks since early settlement days. In keeping with this legacy the Borden Kitchen created a modern version of the "poor-man's" pie. Its sweet sharpness springs from sour cream, condensed mince meat and cider vinegar, all ringed with fluffy whipped cream. Surely a pie to grace any dinner, elaborate or simple.

Proud Mincemeat Vinegar Pie

- (Makes one 9-inch pie)
- | | |
|----------------------------------|--|
| 1 (9-inch) unbaked pastry shell | 1 cup Borden sour cream |
| 2 eggs, separated | 3 tablespoons butter |
| 1 cup sugar | 1 (9-oz.) package None-Such condensed mince meat |
| 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour | 2 tablespoons cider vinegar |

Chill pastry shell in refrigerator while preparing filling. Beat egg white until foamy; gradually beat in sugar until mixture becomes thick. In a medium-size mixing bowl, beat egg yolks until well blended. Fold egg white into beaten yolks. Add flour and sour cream, alternately, a little at a time, beginning and ending with flour. In a small saucepan, melt butter; crumble mince meat into melted butter; blend in vinegar. Gently fold into egg mixture. Turn into chilled pastry shell. Bake in a hot (450 degree F.) oven 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 25 to 30 minutes, or until filling is firm and well browned. Cool. Serve at room temperature. If desired, top with whipped dessert topping or whipped cream.

From the Borden Kitchen comes this proud pound cake made with pungent mince meat, spiced with nutmeg and spiked with brandy. On cold and frosty evenings, it tastes even better toasted.

Sweet Mince Cake

- (Makes one 9 inch cake)
- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 cup (2 sticks) Danish flavor margarine | 1/2 teaspoon baking powder |
| 1 cup sugar | 1/4 cup brandy |
| 4 eggs | 1/4 cup heavy cream |
| 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour | 1 (9-oz.) package None-Such condensed mince meat, crumbled |
| 1 teaspoon nutmeg | 2 tablespoons flour |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | |

In a large-size mixing bowl, cream margarine and sugar together. Add eggs, one at a time, beat well after each addition. Sift dry ingredients together. Combine brandy and heavy cream. Add dry ingredients and brandy-cream mixture alternately to margarine mixture, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. In a small-size mixing bowl, combine crumbled mince meat and flour. Mix until mince meat is well separated and thoroughly dredged with flour mixture. Fold into batter. Spoon into a greased and waxed-paper lined 9-inch tube pan. Bake in a slow (325 degree F) oven, 1 hour and 20 minutes, or until cake is golden brown and springs back when touched lightly with fingers. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn cake out of pan. Remove paper. Cool.

Harold's retirement hailed in U-M style

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

A friendly get-together was planned by co-workers and friends of Harold Clayton of Bedell Street in celebration of his retirement after 23 years as an employee of the University of Michigan.

A dinner, complete with a special cake on Saturday evening, Nov.

5, was held at the Bill Lyle Supper Club in Toledo, Ohio. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Linderman of Saline, Mr. and Mrs. William Brushaber of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. William Weindorf of Ann Arbor and the honoree's wife, Ruby.

While Harold was being toasted, the orchestra played "The Victors," the University's theme song.

sity's theme song.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane were last Sunday dinner guests of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Orr of Owosso.

Did you know that Belleville has a TV celebrity? Mrs. Vinton (Frances) McAtee of West Columbia Avenue was chosen to be "The New You" for the month of November on "This Morning's Show" on Channel 9. She appeared on Friday, Nov. 4 at 9:30 a.m. and again on Monday, Nov. 7 after becoming "The New You."

Theodore Luper of Karr Road is now convalescing at his home after having been a patient at Beyer Hospital, Ypsilanti, for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ransom from Glendale Heights, Ill. were weekend guests of the former's brother and wife, the Guy Ransoms of West Huron River Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering of West Columbia Avenue were guests last Sunday, Nov. 6, at a buffet dinner at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kobish, of Addison. The occasion was in celebration of the second birthday of the latter's daughter, Teresa Lynn.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens of East Huron River Drive and their daughter, Suzanne of Liberty Street, were Mrs. Stevens' mother, Mrs. Chester Shoup, a sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Knoblauch of Morenci, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Shoup of Lake Le Ann.

Mrs. Emma Bowden is now convalescing at her home on East Huron River Drive after having undergone eye surgery at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor last week.

Members of Belleville Chapter No. 73, O.E.S., who attended the reception for the Worthy Grand Matron, Erma Meinhardt, held at the Fairlane Club in Dearborn on Saturday evening, Nov. 5, were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Florian of Liberty Street, Elda Bohl of Robson Road, Katherine Spring of Liberty Street and Vincent Goodnuff of Alva Drive.

Mrs. Dorothy Kellas of Margery Street was among the members of the Strand-Weeks Club who attended the monthly meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hietala in Dearborn on Sunday of last week.

About 50 members of Myrtle Lodge No. 89, F & A.M., their wives and Eastern Star members gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grover at South Huron Orchards in New Boston on Saturday evening, Nov. 5. They enjoyed a barbecue steak dinner before a hayride in a canopied wagon drawn by horses.

Following the ride an evening of music, songs, cards and visiting was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith spent the weekend of the 4th with their daughter and son-in-law, Luanne and Pete Schonfeld, who recently moved into a new apartment in North Evanston, Ill. While there they celebrated, belatedly, the young couple's second wedding anniversary over brunch at "Fritz, That's It" in Evanston.

Enroute home they stopped in Kalamazoo to see their other two daughters, Sue and Carol, who are both students at Western Michigan University.

MSU garden corner answers questions

Michigan State University horticulture specialists answer timely questions on vegetable garden, houseplants, lawn care and related topics.

Q. What herbs can I grow as houseplants this winter?

A. Mint, basil, chives, parsley and sweet marjoram usually give good results when grown indoors in pots. Pot up new plants — started from either cuttings or seeds — in any well-drained houseplant potting mixture. Place pots in a south window and water when the soil surface feels dry. Fertilize only if you are cutting the herbs frequently. Too much nitrogen may cause herbs to lose their characteristic flavor and aroma.

Q. Can I save my geraniums and grow them indoors this winter?

A. Sure can. Take three- or four-inch terminal cuttings from stems and root in perlite, vermiculite, peat moss or sand. Water as often as needed to keep the rooting medium moist. When the cuttings are well rooted, transplant them to four-inch pots and place them in a sunny window. Water when the soil surface dries out. You can also dig up the whole plant, cut the top back to six inches in height and pot in a container just big enough to hold the root system. Plants grown from cuttings usually give better results, however.

Q. How do I store leftover pesticides so they'll be good next year?

A. Store all pesticides and other lawn and garden chemicals in their original containers. The package label is loaded with vital information: what the product is, how to use it and what to do in case of accidental poisoning. Tighten the lids on glass and metal containers and place paper containers in plastic bags or tightly capped jars to keep the contents dry. Place all pesticides and other toxic or potentially dangerous chemicals in a locked cabinet where the temperature will not fall below 32 degrees F. Freezing, like moisture, can cause some materials to lose their effectiveness.

Q. Both of the 25-year-old maple trees next to my house are wilting on one side. On one, it's the side next to the street; on the other, the side toward the house. The rest of each of them looks healthy enough. What's the trouble?

A. Examine the trees at the point where the trunk enters the ground. Is there a normal outward spread at ground level (root flare), where the roots begin, or does the trunk go straight into the soil like a telephone pole? If the latter is the case, the problem is probably girdling roots. When trees are grown in containers, their roots tend to grow in a circle around the inside. If these roots are not pruned off or spread out at planting time, they form a noose that eventually strangles the tree.

You may be able to save the trees by uncovering and removing these girdling roots. There is some danger that removing too many roots can also harm the tree.

Hot meals scheduled for aged

The Wayne County Office on Aging is sponsoring a hot-meal luncheon at Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Rd., Belleville, daily except for Wednesday at 11:30 a.m.

Individuals or their spouse must be at least 60 years old, regardless of income, to participate. A donation of 50 cents a meal is requested, but is not required.

Meals should be ordered 48 hours in advance by calling 699-2001, or reservations may be made by the week. The nutrition program allows senior citizens to have a nutritious meal while enjoying the company of fellow area residents.

Yule cards now onsale for charity

The Kidney Foundation of Michigan has six different Christmas cards available and is taking orders at the foundation office at 3378 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor.

A full-color order folder on the cards may be obtained by calling the office at 971-2800. They range in price from $3 to $6 for 25 and may be imprinted if ordered by Dec. 6.

Proceeds will aid the agency to expand its research effort.

Davy show benefits Easter Seals

Two shows, featuring television star Ed Asner, one for the benefit of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Wayne County, will be the annual Christmas offering of Detroit's Max Davey Singers and Dancers Dec. 3 and 4 in Ford Auditorium.

Asner, multiple Emmy winner on TV and rapidly gaining new fame with his portrayal of the tough and tender metropolitan newspaper city editor in CBS' dramatic show, "The Lou Grant Show", will act as narrator, storyteller of the Davey Christmas presentation, which will be staged in three sections for members of Concert Series Inc., and regular customers at ticket prices of $6.50 each at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 3 and $10 each at the benefit at 2 p.m. on Dec. 4.

This year's Christmas presentation, one of two produced each year by the Davey organization is another original script from the pen of Lan O'Kun, the popular New York author whose credits include the children's classic "The Littlest Angel," and who has scripted a number of the Davey shows. Set initially in a toy shop, Asner will describe the events and the Davey chorus will sing some familiar standards such as "Satin Doll", "Be a Clown", and some original songs composed by the many-talented O'Kun.

The second setting is medieval with elegant costumes and Christmas songs in the vein of "Deck the Halls", "Silent Night", and more O'Kun originals.

The finale is a snowy scene in keeping with the season, featuring music and children of the Davey Singers and Dancers in their premiere performances with the group.

All of the acts singing and dancing will be backed by the Max Davey Orchestra, a collection of Detroit area musicians who have donated hours of talent to the productions of Concert Series, Inc. The shows are presented complete with sets, costumes and choreography, the latter this time by Dominic and Nancy Missimi.

It's hard to conceive of any television viewer not being aware of the amazing versatility of Ed Asner, especially that large segment of TV-land that tuned in faithfully Saturday nights to watch the uproarious newsroom antics of the Minneapolis TV station depicted so long on the "Mary Tyler Moore Show." Asner also gained acclaim and awards for his serious acting roles in the TV novella, "Rich Man, Poor Man", and the history making "Roots".

But few probably are aware of the long, hard road that carried Asner upwards from the no-name "Oh, you know him" stage to his current standing atop the lists of TV stars.

Actually, Asner has been paying his acting dues ever since high school days in his native Kansas City, Kan. Born there Nov. 15, 1929, he alternated between being All-City tackle and a dramatic club member at Kansas City's Wyandotte High School. Firmly hooked on acting, he kept it up while at the University of Chicago, where his first stage role was as Thomas Becket in "Murder in the Cathedral".

During his college acting career, Asner had occasion to appear in William Butler Yeats' "Purgatory", in which Mike Nichols made his first stab at directing.

After a 2-year hitch in the Army, Asner returned to theater work in Chicago before going on to New York and Broadway, where he appeared with Jack Lemmon in "Face of a Hero", off-Broadway productions and both the American and New York Shakespeare Festivals.

A well-seasoned stage veteran by 1961, Asner left New York for Hollywood and has been actively engaged in both motion pictures and television ever since. He and his wife, Nancy, have three children and make their home in Bel Air.

Proceeds from the Sunday benefit show will go to the Wayne County Chapter of the National Easter Seal Society, which year after year pours millions of dollars into research, care and treatment of the victims of crippling diseases.

The Easter Seal Society of Wayne County opened its doors in 1957 as a recreation center. Through the years, habilitation-rehabilitation services were added. The society is a voluntary, non-profit health organization, dedicated to helping those with physical or other handicapping conditions reach the maximum development of their potential. Service is offered without regard to age, race, creed, color, type of handicap, place of residence, or economic status. The Easter Seal Society of Wayne County informs all clients of the actual cost of the service they receive and every client shall have the choice of paying the full fee reflected on the schedule, paying any part of the fee which he can afford, or receiving services without charge. Services include recreational, physical and occupational therapy, human services program, a vocational evaluation program, plus supportive programs such as loaning wheelchairs and other equipment, special ramp construction and transportation. To take advantage of any of the Society's services, call 722-3055 or 722-3065.

Honorary chairman of this benefit is Dr. Gerald Ebmeyer, District Governor 640, Rotary International, and the Rotary Clubs, District 640 are assisting the Easter Seal Society in promoting this event. Tickets for both performances are available at Ford Auditorium. For additional information regarding the program, call Concert Series Inc. 25747 Kilreigh Court, Farmington Hills, 48018 at 476-6276 and the Dec. 722-3065.

The Pilgrim heritage has long been a tradition not only in Plymouth, Michigan but especially at the Mayflower. To continue this practice, we have meticulously researched the service and preparation of the Pilgrim Fathers' First Thanksgiving Dinner. With certain liberties, the menu is a duplicate of that Thanksgiving Dinner menu used by the Pilgrims in 1621.

It's all metric to me!

Although many of us are not looking forward to using the metric system, it has become part of our lives and is most likely here to stay. The following, reprinted from the Food and Drug Administration's "Consumer Memo", will make it a little easier to understand metric measures on nutrition labels.

"One of the first things consumers will notice about the new nutrition information food labels is that metric units are used throughout. These are the measuring units used in most of the world.

"The metric system is based on the decimal system of numbers, which involves multiples of 10. Thus, it is very easy to go from small units to large, or vice versa, simply by moving decimal points.

"The Food and Drug Administration prescribed the metric system for nutrition labels because the unit we are most accustomed to, the ounce, is too large to describe conveniently the amounts of nutrients in foods. For instance, 1 gram is about equal to the weight of a paper clip. If a food contains 9 grams of protein, then, expressing this in our customary terms, it would be 9-28 ounce. This is just an example of how customary measurements used for food composition would not only be very small but appear as confusing fractions.

"The basic metric units that consumers will see on nutrition labels are grams (units of mass or weight) and liters (units of volume). Metric units of volume may appear in the serving size for liquid foods as well as in the container's net volume. The upper portion of the label will use metric units in weight as grams for protein, carbohydrate, and fat in a serving of food.

"The lower portion of the nutrition information panel gives the percentage of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances of protein, vitamins and minerals in a serving, and does not require any understanding of the metric system.

"It may help to memorize these approximate equivalencies:
1 ounce equals 28 grams
3 1/2 ounces equals 100 grams
8 ounces equals 227 grams
1 pound equals 454 grams

"Once the basic unit is determined, whether grams or liters in the metric system, other multiples are built on it with suitable prefixes. Whenever the prefix "kilo" precedes a unit, it is 1,000 times that unit. One kilogram equals 1,000 grams, for example.

"Similarly, the prefix "milli" indicates one-thousandth and "micro" one-millionth of the basic unit. A milligram is one-thousandth of a gram. Thus:

1 kilogram equals 1,000 grams
1 gram equals 1,000 milligrams
1 milligram equals 1,000 micrograms

"To convert the metric system into the system to which Americans are more accustomed:

1 kilogram equals 2.2 pounds
1 pound equals 454 grams
1 ounce equals 28 grams

"The other basic unit of metric measurement besides the gram that will be found on nutrition labels is the liter, used to measure volume. A liter is a little larger than a quart.

"Remember the saying 'A pint is a pound, the world around'? Well, this is a rough approximation based on a volume-weight relationship of water. Here is a new twist to an old saying to help you remember that pints and liters are volume measurements and pounds and kilograms are weight: A pint is a pound the world around, but a liter is a kilogram when you're in a metric jam."

I hope the complete change to the metric system doesn't take place soon. I'm not ready for it.

Know your insurance needs

By LINDA JOY
Executive Director
Michigan Consumers Council

Many consumers are shocked when their insurance company refuses to renew their policy or cancels the insurance on their home or automobile, but they should not automatically brand themselves as uninsurable. Not only do some insurance companies specialize in high-risk auto policies, the state also sponsors two special programs for consumers who have been denied home or auto insurance by private companies.

Automobile and homeowners insurance often are referred to as essential because consumers usually do not have the option of going without them. While state law requires automobile insurance, many mortgage lenders refuse to grant mortgages unless the home and title are insured.

The supply of essential insurance, however, often falls short of the demand because insurance companies sometimes refuse to accept an applicant due to high risk factors. For example, an 18-year-old person with a new sports car and a bad driving record might have a difficult time finding auto insurance.

Although some automobile insurance companies advertise for high-risk customers, a person should expect to pay more through a high-risk specialist than through a regular insurance company.

If you cannot find essential insurance in the private insurance market, the state has established two programs to provide auto and homeowners insurance for those who have been denied insurance elsewhere.

The Michigan Automobile Placement Facility will provide auto insurance to all licensed drivers. Anyone who needs auto insurance can apply to the facility through an insurance agent. The consumer then is assigned to an insurance company which will issue a policy for three years. The company then reviews the policy to see if lower-risk rates will apply.

The Michigan Basic Property Insurance Association also is known as the FAIR (Fair Access to Insurance Requirements) Plan. It makes homeowners insurance available to those who can't buy it from a private company.

Unlike the auto facility, which redistributes applicants to private companies, the FAIR Plan is a separate company. It inspects property, issues policies, and settles claims. The Plan provides the standard Michigan fire insurance, along with vandalism and other extended coverage. An applicant can contact the Plan through an insurance agent or by writing to the Michigan Basic Property Insurance Association, P.O. Box 86, Detroit 48231.

If you feel you've been unfairly refused essential insurance, there is something you can do about it. The Michigan Deceptive Insurance Practices Act forbids discrimination by insurance companies on the basis of age, sex, marital status, race, and geographic location (redlining).

If you have any questions about insurance, contact the state Insurance Bureau at its toll-free number, 1-800-292-5943.

There are things you can do to control the cost of your phone bill.

We are constantly searching for ways to help you economize on your phone service, but here are just a few ideas on how you can help yourself:

Call when it's least expensive. For example, when you're calling long distance, dial direct and plan your calls for times when the rates are lowest.

Budget Service that's really low budget! Look into the availability of Budget Service if you don't make a lot of phone calls every month. It's the least expensive one-or-two party phone service we offer.

Plan to have all your service installed in one visit. For instance, if you move, plan carefully so the installer doesn't have to make extra trips, for which you may have to pay additional charges. And while you're planning for new service, make sure it's going to be the kind most suited to your needs.

Portage Central is Salem 'Waterloo'

Rocks ousted in Class A quarter-finals, 21-3

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Coach Tom Moshimer and his Plymouth Salem troops got a taste of how Napoleon must have felt retreating from Moscow back in 1817.

Moshimer's Rocks took on Portage Central and the elements and Central emerged an easy winner over the frost-bitten Salem troops who retreated from Brighton with their first football loss of the campaign.

The 21-3 season-ending Salem setback ousted the Rocks from the Michigan Athletic Association's state quarter-finals and advanced unbeaten Portage Central to the Class A semi-finals which will be staged on Saturday.

Playing in freezing temperatures

Friday night, Salem was no match for their rivals who overcame a 3-0 first quarter deficit to take the lead 7-3 at the half, then went on to put up 14 unanswered points on the scoreboard in the second half.

Moshimer was visibly disappointed with his team's performance and said afterward, "We were flat out there...There was no emotion at all, hey, they really beat the heck out of us."

The stats would back up Moshimer's statement. Salem managed to get a mere three first downs and chalked up a skimpy 26 yards - all on the ground - rushing.

Would injured quarterback Rich Hewlett have made a difference? Hewlett was sidelined in the final conference game of the season with a broken collarbone and missed the game against Harrison and Portage.

Hewlett was recently named to the All-Suburban teams and has been the mainstay of the Rocket offense during the regular season.

"I really don't know...it's all speculation now, but we really didn't show much out there Friday night," Moshimer offered.

Hewlett's backup man, Paul Dillon, who had an exceptional game in leading the Rocks against Harrison a week ago, just couldn't generate the offense against a rugged Central defense that was sparked by linebackers Jeff Smith and Eric VanDerveen who frustrated the Rock offense most of the evening.

Central's Todd Lipschultz caused most of the Rock headaches and led the coupe against the highly-regarded Salem contingent. Lipschultz chalked up an incredible 164 yards on 17 attempts and scored two of the Portage touchdowns that sealed Salem's doom.

It was all over for the reigning Suburban 8 Conference champs shortly after the second half kickoff when Central, directed by field general Pete Metzelaars, marched 54 yards and scored on the quarterback's one-yard lunge.

Salem never had a chance to retaliate as the Rocks had possession of the ball during the second half for an incredible eight plays from scrimmage. They ran off 25 plays to Central's 56 plays from scrimmage for the evening.

The statistics tell the entire story: Central had 18 first downs, 305 total yards, (259 on the ground and 46 in the air) as compared to Salem's 26 yards total and three first downs. The Rocks also fumbled twice and lost the ball both times while Central didn't have a turnover by land or air. They were penalized six times for 60 yards, however, as compared to no penalties for the Rocks.

You can bet the next time - and the Rocks are sure there will be a next time - Salem gets in a playoff situation, Moshimer will have second thoughts of playing the game on a Friday night so late in the season.

Most playoff games were played Saturday afternoon and Mother Nature cooperated by showing some warmth; she didn't however have any pity Friday night at Brighton which had to be the coldest spot in the state.

Just ask Moshimer and the Rocks, they'll tell you.

A perfect game

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

He wasn't available for comment, but, usually when a man shoots a 300 game in bowling no one can stop him from commenting.

Westlander Norm Kluska was back on the job at the Fleetwood auto plant in Detroit telling the guys about the unbelievable feat he had accomplished. The 175-average bowler has joined an elite club of keggers by rolling a perfect game.

Kluska's 300 was only the fourth in 16 years at the Town 'N Country Lanes and he's still "walking on a cloud," according to his wife, Nancy.

"He's at work now," Mrs. Kluska said, "but I'm sure he would be happy to talk to you later this evening. In fact that's about all he is talking about nowadays."

Norm, who bowls in the Knights of Columbus men's league, started off the evening with a "hot" 207 game, then cooled to a 156. Then it happened.

He didn't know he was on the verge of rolling what bowlers only dream about - 12 consecutive strikes.

And that's how Kluska ended the evening with a 300 game.

He finished with a 663 series.

Officials of the Wayne-Westland Bowling Association said that Kluska will be awarded a "300 ring" signifying that he did bowl a perfect game. He may also be the recipient of other awards.

He is the father of two children, Nelson 8, and Nyla 3½.

What does one do for an encore after posting a 300 game?

That's a tough question to answer.

And let's wrap up the week with this letter from concerned Belleville High parents whose son played football for the Tigers. To the Sports Editor:

The end of the 1977 High School football season is here and I as a parent of one of the players on the Belleville High Varsity team am glad to see it come to an end.

Not because of the team; the boys gave 110 percent at least most of the time.

Everything we, as parents ever told our boys about sports, and how it would be when they got into high school turned out to be wrong at Belleville.

For instance, if you were good, you'd play, there was and is so much talent on the Belleville team, that it amazes me how the four coaches on varsity can take these boys who have been playing football, some for eight years, and make them look as though they have never even seen a football before.

Then there's the case of the double standard. The boys who gave 110 percent during practice and never missed a practice are the boys who started the next Friday, or so say the coaches, but the boys saw differently.

Last year our starting quarterback missed a practice because of a field trip with the school, he didn't get to start that following Friday.

This year, our running back has missed practices for reasons unknown and has never missed starting a game. This young man is a good athlete, but again there's that double standard.

I have two more boys coming up to Belleville High School and I hope by that time the coaching staff will be able to take honest criticism and realize these boys came to play football. To be disciplined evenly and fairly, to be worked hard so that they can play without the fear of injury.

My hat goes off to these fine young men who represented the Belleville football team this year, I'm sure you all learned a lot about fair play.

Respectfully,
Mr. & Mrs. Larry Pingston

Robichaud eliminated in 'B' race

It just wasn't meant to be.

Warren Woods ended Dearborn Heights' Robichaud's record-breaking football season Saturday afternoon at Sterling Heights as the undefeated Woods eliminated Coach Bob Yauck's Bulldogs 14-0 in the first quarter-finals ever of the Class B state football playoffs.

Unable to get its offense untracked and giving up the ball twice deep in its territory, Robichaud paid dearly for its mistakes.

The loss capped an 8-2 won-lost season for the Dearborn Heights gridders - the best over-all record in the school's history. Warren Woods stretched its victory string to 10 - seven of those by shutouts. The victors will advance to the state semi-finals set for Saturday in Brighton against Jackson Lumen Christi.

"Our kids have come a long way," said Yauck after the season-ending defeat in Sterling Heights. "We lost to an excellent Warren Woods team and our kids have nothing to be ashamed of."

"We lose only five of these players to graduation: Alvin Carter, Roger McGhee, Mike Morgan, George Green and my son, Bob, so we'll have a fine nucleus of players coming back for next year."

Warren Woods capitalized on a bad snap from center during a punting situation to put their first score on the board. Midway in the first quarter, the Bulldogs gave up the ball on the 24 after the bad snap, then Woods' quarterback pitched out to Gary Huston who galloped into the end zone with 6:44 remaining in the quarter. Woods successfully converted to take a 7-0 lead.

Before the half ended, Huston struck again this time scoring from the 42 after a couple of Robichaud defenders missed their assignment. Woods got the ball around the 44-yard line because of a poor punt.

It was the punting game that Yauck singled out as one of the major reasons for his team's demise.

"Our kicking game collapsed," Yauck moaned. "And, except for two plays, I felt our team played well. Warren Woods is an excellent defensive team... you can't take that away from them, and they got the job done." Coach Dennis Zboden said his strategy was to take the outside running game away from Robichaud and contain running-back Mark Woodson, whose speed - he can run the 100-yards in 9.9 - could have caused Warren problems.

Woodson was credited with 34 yards rushing in 18 tries.

Robichaud's offense couldn't penetrate Woods' defense which was spearheaded by All-Suburban linebacker Mike Visconti.

Huron: team to watch

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Nearly a decade ago a scrappy, hard-nosed football player by the name of Ron Pichan led the New Boston Huron Chiefs to a conference championship.

Ron went on to star for Hillsdale College and, though he didn't make it with the pros, he became a noteworthy quarterback with the Pontiac Arrows in the Mid-West Conference, a semi-professional league.

Now Ron's younger brother, Randy, has stepped into the limelight at Huron. Though the Chiefs didn't win a championship this season, they definitely will be the team to catch come next fall.

The reason: quarterback Randy Pichan who is generating a lot of enthusiasm and excitement with his triple threat performances. Not only can the 16-year-old junior run and pass the ball, but he's an exceptional field goal kicker.

Randy connected on all four of his tries this year, his longest field goal covering 37 yards.

"I really like playing quarterback," Pichan admits. "It's a position where there is a lot of responsibility and challenge - you know I was sacked only three times this year and, of course, that's because we have one of the best offensive lines around."

Pichan went on to name those players who gave "him time to really function in the backfield". They are center Larry LaValley, right guard Bob Teague, left guard Mike Bossary, a transfer from Romulus High, tackles Jeff Wauer and Mark Morris.

Randy's backfield mates included Greg Smith whose elbow injury prevented him from breaking Jamie LaRocco's all-time rushing record of 1,103 yards. When Greg got hurt Fred Block, a power runner, took his place in the backfield and Kelly Summerfield rounded out the offensive team.

"Coach LaBeau, (Huron head coach Tom LeBeau) is really a strict disciplinarian," Pichan added, "and all of the players respect him - I think this is the main reason for our team's success."

LeBeau inherited a team that was mired in the cellar of the Huron Conference. The Chiefs progressively climbed from a 1-8 team to a 2-7 and finished with a winning record this year (5-4). It was Huron's first winning season since 1971 - a 16 year drought.

Pichan, a 6 feet, 3 inch, 175-pound versatile athlete started his career at Woodhaven High School but, like many other school districts, was about to cut back on athletics when

Chiefs' mainstay

The New Boston Huron Chiefs, trampled upon and frustrated these past years on the gridiron, had something to cheer about this season as quarterback Randy Pichan (above) led them to their first winning season (5-4) in nearly 16 years. And things probably will get better for Coach Tom LeBeau's team next year as the entire offensive backfield, including Pichan, will be back to battle for what could be their first football championship in two decades.

A free ride

A Woodhaven griddier gets a free ride at the expense of New Boston Huron's Kelly Summerfield (12) who rushes for yardage in the season finale recently. The Chiefs posted a victory over their nonleague rivals which lifted them to a 5-4 over-all season, their first winning season in more than 15 years.

Undefeated Wayne gals woo 3rd swim title

For the third consecutive year, Wayne Memorial's girls swimming team will take an undefeated Great Lakes 8 Conference record into the league championships.

The championships will be staged Thursday and Friday at Lincoln Park. The preliminaries are scheduled for 4 p.m. on Thursday and the finals will get underway at 7 p.m. on Friday.

"I feel we have an excellent opportunity to repeat as league champ," said Jim McPartlin, Wayne coach. "One team that poses a threat is Monroe and we must swim well to stop them. They have some excellent all-around swimmers, but I feel we have the edge in over-all depth."

Wayne wrapped up the dual meet phase of the league season last week with an easy 58-21 victory over Riverview. The Zebras took eight of the 10 first places, yielding only in the 100-yard breaststroke and the final 400-yard freestyle events.

Tracey Batterson accounted for two Wayne first places as she turned in a 2:18.1 in winning the 200-yard freestyle, then compiled 141 points to win the diving competition. Tracey's sister, Kelly, was the top performer in the 100-yard freestyle as she pulled in with a 1:03.0 effort.

Wayne will be shooting for its third successive league championship when the five teams - Fordson, Monroe, Lincoln Park, Wayne get together at Lincoln Park.

Playing a cagey tune

The Arkansas Gems, a professional women's basketball team, will be at Cherry Hill Saturday night to help the Spartans raise some money for their varsity baseball team. In the Gem's lineup will be Sally Alvey (from left) Sandy Nickerson and Mary Roufs who will take on a faculty team made up of such notables as former Cherry Hill coach Joe LaScola and head swim coach Jerry Pawloski. Tickets are available at the school or at the door the night of the game.

Franklin's Murray is All-State

"Consistent golfing" has paid off for Franklin's senior Glenn Murray. Murray, who led Livonia Franklin to the Northwest Suburban and Western Wayne Golf Championships this season, was named recently to the All-State team. The six-man team was picked by members of the High School Coaches' Association. Murray becomes the first Franklin golfer to receive such coveted recognition. Murray is joined on the "dream team" by John Perles of Bloomfield Hills Andover, Mike Medoni of

They're No. 1

An outstanding performance against Wayne High enabled Westland John Glenn to reclaim the Wayne Jaycees' annual Fall Football Classic trophy. The Westlanders have had possession of the coveted trophy for the past four years after losing it to their arch rivals the first three years. Glenn brought the curtains down to a 7-2 over-all season and managed to retain a share of the Northwest Suburban Conference championship. Coach Chuck

Gordon (at right, kneeling with hands on the trophy) ended his rookie season as head coach and said that he "was proud that his team managed to come back after losing to Allen Park in the opener to win the next seven of eight games." Glenn and some 12 other area schools will contribute some of the players who will make up The Associated Newspapers' coveted All-Area Football Team due to hit the newsstands next week.

Hartland, Dave Belen, of Pewamo-West Phalia, Greg Divine of Lansing Catholic Central, and Kevin Troyer of Goodrich.

"The coaches picked teams for each of the four classes, then a team made up of players for all classes — Glenn was named to that team," explained Bob Visser, Franklin coach. "It's quite an honor. He's the first golfer in our school's history to ever be named all-state."

Murray's credentials included winning medalist honors for two straight years in the Northwest Suburban Conference, claiming the WW title, third at the regional and "being considered as one of the most consistent players in the state."

The 17-year-old Franklin senior carded a 69 at Salem Hills during the WW meet and finished with a 73 at

Belleville tanker sets pace

Before Janna Harris ends her high school swimming career at Belleville High she could own most of the school records.

The petite senior has her stamp presently on five of the Tiger marks and could rewrite the records of a couple of more before the curtains to the 1977 season falls.

"Miss Harris has a lot of potential," said first year coach Doug Stosick who inherited the team from older brother John and Sam Vicchy. "She's a very hard worker and keeps improving everytime she gets into the pool."

Miss Harris presently has the 50-yard freestyle record (27.8), the 200-yard individual medley (2:33.1), the 100-yard butterfly (1:09.5) and the 100-yard backstroke (1:16.0). She helped in setting the 400-yard freestyle relay record, covering her 100-yard split with an impressive 59.7.

Miss Harris, Karen MacDermid, Dru Strobel and Martha Ryzner combined for a 4:06 earlier in the year to establish the record.

Though the Tiger swimmers don't get the headlines, they receive their share of accolades. One of the Extra Point stays undefeated in over 30 hockey league

Extra Point Bar and 52nd Show Bar continue to set the early pace in the Wayne-Westland Over 30-Hockey League.

Though Extra Point has a slim edge with a perfect 5-0 record and 10 points, 52nd also is undefeated in five starts, however, the second place team has suffered a tie, leading it with a 4-0-1 over-all record.

The league leaders crushed winless Johnson Carbonic 7-3 for its fifth victory of the campaign. A four-goal first period burst convinced Extra Points' opponents they were no match for the first place team.

Pat Brown and Conrad Madaleno each fired in two goals for the winners while Ron Johnson, Ray Gabbert and Dan Droz accounted for the losers' goals.

52nd stayed in the title picture with a hard-earned 7-5 victory over Four Seasons. Ahead 1-0 after two periods, 52nd erupted for six goals in the final period to claim its fourth victory.

Ron Wojewski and Jerry Gruble scored two goals while Glen Stevenson netted three assists for the winners. Meanwhile, the losers received a hat trick from Larry Kaifesh who also had two assists. Teammate Norm Beasley scored one goal and got credit for three assists.

The Taster Freeze contingent turned back winless Broch Builders 4-1 behind the 2-goal performance from Ken McKee and single tallies from Roger Hamchett and Dave Fishwich. Jerry Hawley scored the lone losers' goal.

In other action, Jack's Sports Center came up with two third period goals to come-from-behind and beat Huron Valley, 4-2. Joel Dickerson, John Clearwood, Rick Muller and Paul Brisse accounted for Jack's goals, while Terry Carley and Tom Delaura tallied for the losers.

Mystery grid panelist

'Mr. X' takes off mask

With the high school football season over for area teams, it now can be told who hid behind "Mr. X" on the prestigious Panel Of Experts. That panel was given the dubious honor of predicting the winners of the weekly prep grid games in the area. And if you followed the panel's selections each week you would have noted that one panelist "Mr. X" always casted his vote for Wayne Memorial — no matter what team the Zebras were playing that week. For good reason — the panelist was none other than Bill Hawley, the school's athletic director.

"No way," Hawley says, "could I gather enough nerve to choose against our own team. It cost me in the long run, (Wayne dropped its last six games) but our players gave fifth place finish which wasn't too bad for his inaugural appearance on the panel.

Tom Mooradian, the old pro, emerged at the top of the panel as the veteran sports editor finished the 1977 season with a 68-21 won-lost ratio. Only the consensus, with 70 correct answers and 18 wrong, had a better record.

In the runner-up spot was Bert Osterberg who was three off the pace with a 65-24 record, followed by Dan Klimkosky (63-26) and Sue McDonald (61-28), the lone woman panelist who proved she knows a lot more about local high school football teams than many of her colleagues.

Mrs. McDonald finished ahead of Tim Brown (58-31) who earned a niche of immortality by predicting the then undefeated John Glenn's downfall at Allen Park; Dennis Fassett (57-32), Greg Morrison (57-32) and Bob Ameen (49-29) who defended his last place record by arguing that he "liked to go with the underdog."

"After all," Ameen pointed out, "which panelist can boast a letter from a fan thanking him — or her — for giving a team moral support. I did."

Ameen received such a note from a Cherry Hill fan who congratulated and thanked him for picking the Spartans to beat a highly-favored Riverside team.

All-Area football, harriers coming up

No high school football or cross country season would be complete without honoring the top athletes in those sports.

And that's what The Associated Newspapers' have in mind for our next edition.

The top prep gridgers and harriers will be selected and honored for their accomplishments during the 1977 campaign. There will be photos of each athlete and capsule features on what they did that enabled them to join a traditional and elite club of athletes.

The team, selected by all-area coaches and the ANP sports department, will be made up of athletes from the following area high schools: Belleville, New Boston Huron, Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Livonia Franklin, Livonia Churchill, Plymouth Canton, Plymouth Salem, Inkster, Robichaud and Cherry Hill.

Along with a first team offense and defense, there will be an honorable mention list in football as well as a coach of the year.

The top 10 cross country runners and a coach of the year will be saluted by the ANP.

So don't miss next week's edition...it will be the final page to an exciting 1977 season.

Gals eye league title races

With the dual meet season behind them and the league and regional championships ahead, area high school girls' swim teams are preparing for the most grueling phase of the season.

Most of the teams will clear up the league races this week and get ready for regional and state meets within the next 10 days.

Meanwhile, the times and performances of the swimmers are peaking as evidenced by the latest chart compiled by Anne Massey, Plymouth Canton head swim coach.

In order to get a performance on the listing please contact Mrs. Massey at 453-3100, extension 313.

They cheer for the Comets

The Wayne-Westland Comets had something to cheer about this season as the freshmen, junior varsity and varsity football units in the league posted excellent records. And cheering the young gridders on to victory this season were the freshmen cheerleaders: Natalie Zubor, Denise Ford, Kerstin Barnes, Tammy New, Cami Coumo, Kelly Gregory and Jamie Kolodziej; the junior varsity cheerleaders included: Kim Mullnax, Terry Proffitt, Maureen Strehl, Robin Stockwell, Tracy Miltz, and Sandy Dye; the varsity cheerleaders are Janelle Tittensor, Kim Wagner, Susan Pacicco, Chris Kociela, Liz Dest, Paula Strell, and the advisors included Sharen Ratica, Joan Bialecki and Sue Unold.

Dolphins turn back Crestwood in Suburban loop swim opener

For the first time in their relatively brief swimming careers, Katie Greuber and Jenny Maher joined four older members of the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club in the elite double-winner circle Friday as the Dolphins fought off a stubborn Crestwood team for a 277-225 victory in the second meet of the 1977-78 Winter-Summer Swim Conference.

Miss Greuber, an eight-year-old mermaid, was the first of Wayne's individual-event winners in the girls' 25-yard butterfly. She repeated as victor in the 25-yard breaststroke. Miss Maher gained her first triumph in the girls' 10-under 50-yard backstroke, and also captured the 50-yard freestyle.

Under Suburban Winter-Summer Conference rules, a swimmer may compete in only two individual events and one relay.

The victory was the second straight for the Dolphins and the tenth straight dual-meet win in as many starts since the conference's inception. Coach Jim Lawrence has been at the Dolphin helm since the string began.

The four other Dolphin swimmers to capture a pair of first-places each included Eric Head, Todd Melanshek, Mary Batterson and Keith Head. Keith Head, Melanshek and Mary Batterson each also swam on winning relay teams to accumulate three blue ribbons for the meet.

Other first-place winners in individual events for the Wayne Club included, Kris Balwinski, Lisa Mondock, Tom Brown, Dyane Swkowski, Dan Butler, Cathy Batterson, Mike Greuber, Sarah O'Kray, Doug White, Joe Miles and Jenny Beckton.

Shelly Conneely, Julie Lutz and Jeff Eddy joined Keith Head on the Dolphins' first of three relay victories, while Mary Jane Little, Jackie Marnon teamed with Mike Greuber and Melanshek for the second. The two Batterson sisters, Miss O'Kray and Lauren Shewman teamed for victory in the girls' age group 200-yard medley relay.

Coach Lawrence and the Dolphins got great effort from some of the Wayne club's experienced

THE 1980's CELICA IS HERE NOW.

THE NEW TOYOTA CELICA GT LIFTBACK. A CAR WHICH MEETS OR EXCEEDS ALL 1980 FEDERAL FUEL ECONOMY AND SAFETY STANDARDS.

Toyota engineering advancements and wind tunnel test refinements have produced an aerodynamic work of art.

The cockpit instrumentation is a beautiful example of functional engineering.

Optional power steering and automatic transmission.

Optional sun roof (Available Jan. 1978).

Reclining bucket seats with newly designed driver's seat with adjustable lumbar support, tinted glass, 5-speed overdrive transmission and AM/FM/MPX Stereo are standard.

Reduced interior noise plus increased stability, acceleration and efficiency.

Increased interior room (4" at the shoulders).

35% more glass for improved, near panoramic visibility.

Remote controlled rear door opens to a fold down, split rear seat.

MacPherson strut front suspension, power assisted front disc brakes, steel belted radial-ply tires. All standard.

Equipment, features and handling comparable to cars costing thousands more.

Welded unitized-body construction to help maintain tight body integrity.

The entire body is "acid" etched for superior paint adhesion and then fully immersed in primer to help prevent rust corrosion.

Traditional Toyota economy. In EPA tests the 1978 Celica GT Liftback was rated at 34 highway 20 city. These ratings with manual transmission are estimates. Your mileage will vary depending on your driving habits and your car's condition and equipment.

The 1978 Celica. Three models: the GT Liftback (pictured), GT and ST Sport Coupes. Dynamically practical cars for the 80's that are here today.

Prep coaches name all-league gridders

It was the coaches turn to go into the huddle last week and when they broke they came up with the top players in their conferences.

Here are the all-conference teams picked by the coaches of leagues involving area teams. (This is not, however, the All-Area Team which will be selected later this week by our area coaches.)

Up for grabs

These two arch-rivals have one thing on their mind — getting to the ball first. Wayne Memorial's Ted Salvadori (23) is in orbit trying to intercept a Bill Lee pass to John Glenn receiver Rick Burns in the season finale for the two schools a week ago. Salvadori got his interception but Burns and the Rockets won the Jaycees' Fall Classic Trophy for the fourth consecutive year. Players from the two teams and several other area schools will be drafted next week to make up The Associated Newspapers' All-Area Football Squad.

voters failed to pass a millage proposal.

So, Randy's dad, Ed Pichan, who has followed the Chiefs athletic fortunes with his camera for years asked his son if he wanted to transfer, the boy didn't hesitate and enrolled at the high school.

"I lost a season because of eligibility, but playing for Mr. LeBeau and this team was worth it," Randy said. "I really learned a lot."

Randy has caught the eye of many of the college scouts. In fact, Bill McCartney, the University of Michigan assistant coach, has asked Randy and his father to be his guest at Saturday's Michigan-Ohio State confrontation and, of course, "the Pichans wouldn't miss it for anything."

Randy has already been receiving letters from as far away as Washington and Oregon asking him to consider continuing his education in those states.

"I'm really not ready to make up my mind about any of these things," Randy said. "We have basketball and baseball coming up."

Yes, Randy also is a top notch cager and an excellent ball player. And there is one thing he abhors — losing.

"Losing is the toughest thing that can happen to an individual or team," admits the young athlete. "It's really frustrating. I know a team has to win and lose, but it's easier when you win."

Though he has been able to stay relatively clear from injuries — he sustained a couple of stitches on his hand — Pichan feels Huron's defense with Mark Beatty, Keith Parsons and Paul Teague in the linebacker slots and cornerbacks Block, Summerfield and safeties Jim Martin and Greg Hinojosa are among the most unheralded players in the league.

"I really feel it was the defense that made our team," Pichan said, "and, ironically, they don't get the headlines or the credit — why do newspapers do that?"

That's a ground rule that was established a long time before this writer began pounding the sidelines.

5 records

reasons why fans don't see the local swimmers winning many is because they lack depth, which means they don't have the numbers to pick up the points in the second, third and fourth places.

But the Tigers do have a lot of talented individuals including Miss Ryzner who is one of the better freestylers in the area, Miss MacDermid who specializes in the long-distance events — the 200 and 500 freestyle and Miss Strobel who excels on the diving boards.

Belleville's team is made up of around 12 swimmers and other notables include Coleen Huntman, Rita Seitz, Lana Fry, and Cindy Morris.

Miss Huntman is a versatile swimmer who has been seeing action in the 500-yard freestyle, while Miss Fry, whose brother captured a Western Wayne Invitational title in diving, is heading in that direction, while Miss Morris, a junior is a top notch individual medley swimmer who also is utilized in the 500-yard freestyle.

Though they have their problems against such outstanding teams as Dearborn and Edsel Ford in the Suburban 8, the Belleville mermaids will always give their opponents a "race to the finish", according to their coaches.

Record-setting splash

En route to the 100-yard Belleville High record is senior Janna Harris who also owns four other school records. Miss Harris is one of the reasons why the thin Tiger line-up is respected in the waters this season. Despite the lack of depth — there are only 12 swimmers out for the team — Coach Doug Stosick's mermaids have kept the scores close.

Westland seeking players

If hockey is your sport, the Westland Parks and Recreation has a league designed just for you.

Westland will offer hockey players a pick-up league which will compete between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Westland Multi-Purpose Arena, 6210 North Wildwood.

The sport is generally offered on a team basis, however, pre-selected teams are not formed in this particular league and anyone may play on any day on a team of his choosing.

The games will be played on Wednesday and Thursday, with a nominal charge of $2 per person for a 2-hour period. Registration is on a daily basis, and the fee may be paid at the arena.

For further information, please telephone the arena office at 729-4560.

A morning hockey league is also available for men working afternoons or midnights. An organizational meeting will be held at the arena on November 17 at 10:30 a.m. Individuals interested in being placed on a team should telephone the arena so that a list of players may be distributed among the team coaches.

If a team already has its players organized, a representative should be sent to the meeting. Further information may be obtained about this year's league by contacting the recreation offices.

'Turkey shoot' at Carleton

Carleton Glen Golf Club is having its Second Annual Turkey Shoot Golf Tournament this Sunday, November 20th, at 11:00 a.m.

Everyone is invited to participate. Turkeys will be awarded as prizes on the basis of actual score and a modified peoria handicap system. Everyone has a chance to win.

Sign up at tee-time or call in your names. $7.50 Greenfees, cover entry fee, prizes, and a hot turkey lunch after 18 holes.

Carleton Glen is on Crafton Road, 1 1/2 miles off I-275, exit No. 8. For information, call 654-6201.

"Glenn's forte is putting," Visser said, "but he is a fine all-around player who is exceptional around the greens."

Murray has been playing golf since he was eight years old and picked up the game "from watching my father play," he says.

AUTO FACTS
By Chet Kosin

Handle the battery in your car cautiously and never strike a match or smoke under the hood of the car. A battery constantly gives off explosive hydrogen gas; even when the battery is cold, the gas may be present at the events in the cell cap. Resting a wrench or other metal tools on top of the battery is just as perilous; if metal touches both battery posts it will cause a short circuit and the resulting sparks may ignite the explosive hydrogen gas.

Replace your older battery now to avoid problems with cold-weather starts! At KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster, you'll find a full selection of quality batteries for both foreign and domestic cars. We carry everything you need to keep your car running efficiently during the cold weather. Come in for parts, accessories, tools, and winterizing materials. We also have a full machine shop service for all types of engine repairs. Call KOSIN'S at 563-3894. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M. Master Charge and Bank Americard are honored.

AUTO TIP:
Never overfill a battery with water. The electrolyte will bubble up through the cap, and it is highly corrosive.

Beware of tainted meat

Field dressing, hanging deer are 'very critical'

The most important aspect of bowhunting is often the one to which the least amount of attention is paid. Due to the warmer weather of bow season field dressing and hanging your deer quickly is critical. Several things will cause the meat to become tainted: body heat, coagulating blood, contact with the musk glands, contact with hair, contact with intestinal fluids or with body excreta. A quick, thorough job can mean the difference between an excellent meal and meat that your dog won't eat.

Before you start dressing your animal you should affix your game tag. Michigan law requires it so it's a good place to start. Next position your deer on its back with the head slightly uphill. With your knife you next cut completely around the deer's anus. Pull the tube out and tie with a piece of cord. If your deer is a buck you should also tie a cord around his penis to keep urine from leaking out while you are dressing the deer. With does you would cut and tie the genitals as you do the anus.

Your next step is to cut the carcass open along the center line of the abdomen. Starting at the breast bone carefully cut the length of the deer using the fingers of your free hand to guide the knife point. The incision should fork around the genitals and continue to the anal cut.

Next cut the membrane separating the chest cavity from the paunch. This will expose the heart and lungs. Reach past the lungs and sever the gullet and windpipe as high as you can reach.

Turn the deer onto its side and carefully pull the entire contents out. You may need to make a few shallow cuts as you pull to cut supporting tissue. Lift the deer's head and neck to drain blood through the anal opening. Wipe interior of carcass and prop open cavity with a stick to speed cooling. Separate the heart and liver from the other organs, place in a plastic bag and you are ready to drag your deer back to camp.

Once you reach camp you should split the pelvis and the breast bone and hang deer with the carcass propped open as wide as possible.

Some people claim to be able to field dress their deer quickly and properly without getting anymore than a minimal amount of blood on their hands. I've never been able to but I consider the mess well worth the trouble.

Grissom's world

Good hunting!

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

Since I had posed no great threat to the deer herd on Bois Blanc Island, I find myself with an unused deer tag. I am determined that with over 30 days of the bow season to go, I'm going to keep trying to connect.

Each year the deer herd in the southern half of Michigan gets larger. The deer are bigger and most of the bucks carry better racks than their northern counterparts. In less than an hour's drive you can be hunting and have a good chance to get a deer as you would further north.

A friend of mine recently took a real nice eight point buck just north of Howell. Some bird hunters I talked to told me of an area near Gregory where they have seen three or four deer every day they've hunted.

When hunting on Bois Blanc one of our group fell 20 feet and shattered his left foot. His tree stand gave way and now he will spend a long and uncomfortable winter mending. Had he used a safety rope as he should have he would now be repairing his tree stand instead.

Since I had no desire to repeat his performance I waited my tree stand to be substantial. Having decided upon hunting northeast of Chelsea, I went looking for a place where I could locate just such a stand.

I found a tree made to order. A large oak tree overlooking several trails leading from the thicket to a huge cornfield.

Excellent cover, a small pond, oak trees, and a lot of deer signs. Everything was looking good.

With great anticipation I carefully constructed my blind. Built from 2 by 4s with a rope safety line, I was certain that this was the tree from which I would take a deer. I carefully cut any obstructing limbs from the area, and now I was ready.

Two days later I arrived to hunt for the first time.

Moving as quietly as possible I climbed into the stand certain that this would be the day. After a little over an hour I caught the first sign of movement about 40 yards out. Anticipating the deer's moves I turned slowly with bow ready. I could see him better now, but still not a clear shot.

Just a few more steps...

Bow drawn...

Relaxed grip. Breathing controlled. Heart pounding. Mouth suddenly gone dry. Almost. Just a little more. Come on.

"Hey dad! Look at the man up in the tree."

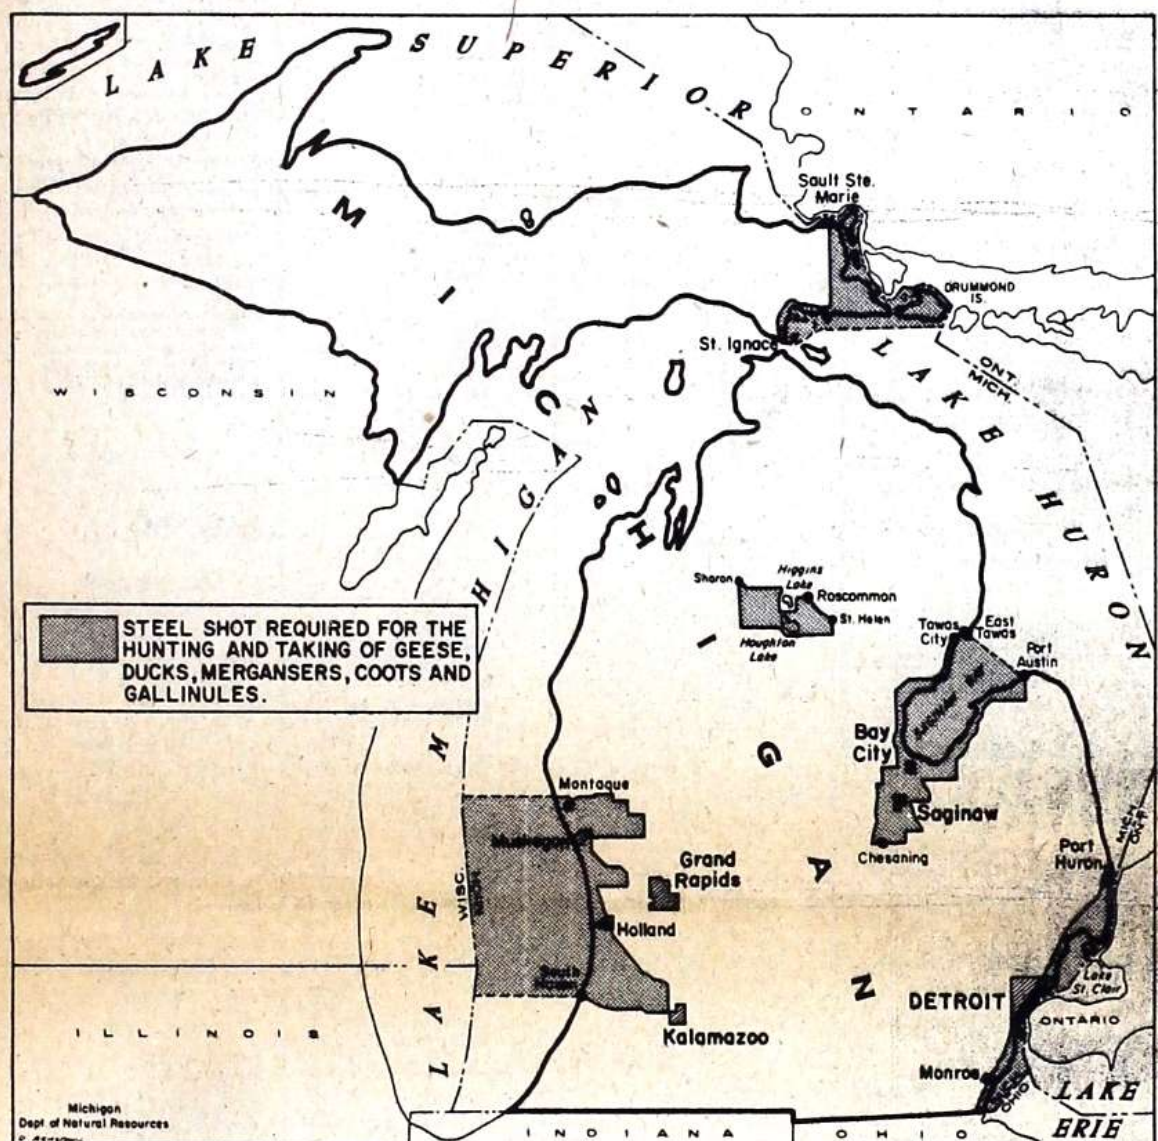

Why did they have to come through here today of all days. Don't they know that there are more pheasants somewhere else. Oh well, I guess I'll just have to come back.

Now that bow hunting is allowed from trees I can't stress enough the simple safety rules you should follow. Never climb a tree with your bow. Always hoist it up with a small cord. Never hunt from a tree stand without a safety rope.

And lastly, never hunt without someone knowing the exact location of your stand.

I hope that your luck is much better than mine has been so far. Good hunting!!

1977 WATERFOWL SEASON STEEL SHOT AREAS

Waterfowl hunters, beware

Beginning this fall, waterfowl hunters must use steel shot in the shaded areas shown above if they shoot 12-gauge loads, according to the Department of Natural Resources. Hunters may still use lead shot in the designated areas in 10, 16, 20, 28 and 40 gauge except on state operated managed hunting areas (S. Clair Flats Wildlife Area, Shiawassee River State Game Area, Crow Island State Game Area, Fish Point Wildlife Area, and Nyanquing Pt. Wildlife Area) where only 12, 16 and 20 gauge can be used. The DNR has surveyed many of the retail outlets that sell shotgun shells and has found steel shot to be generally available in and around designated areas. If you or your local retail store have difficulty finding steel shot, call the DNR's Wildlife Division in Lansing at (517) 373-1263.

CH Spartans are second in Tri-River Conference

Outscoring their opponents 28-8 in the third period, Cherry Hill ended the Tri-River Conference girls' basketball season last week with a 52-42 triumph over Southgate.

The victory gave Coach Linda Wheeler's cagers an 8-2 conference record - good for second place.

When you consider that we only won one game in 10 starts," said Coach Wheeler, "you have to be happy with what the team has accomplished this year."

Leading 14-10 at the end of the first period, Cherry Hill widened the margin 30-22 at halftime, then Julie Price sank eight of her game high 22 points and Gwyn Northcut chipped in eight of her 20 points in the third period to give the Spartans a commanding 20-point third period advantage.

Cherry Hill finished one-game out of first occupied by Schafer which claimed the 1977 title.

The Spartans will take on non-conference opponent Lutheran West at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, then get ready for the state district playoffs to be staged on November 27 at Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

Earlier Cherry Hill turned back Crestwood 39-29 thanks to Miss Price's 13 points and Northcut's 10.

Sue Kosch dropped in seven points. Close the first half - Cherry Hill was ahead 7-6 and 13-12 at the end of the first two periods, the Spartans again rallied in the third period and took a 29-20 lead before going on to the victory.

swimmers. Lawrence singled out Alan White, David Reynolds, Kim Tilley, Kris Johnston, Lori Miles, Diane Brown, Bob Henson, Jeff Albert, Heather Jones, Mary Beth Henson, Tim White, Scott Staber, Dennis Higgs, Steve Thompson, Debbie Cochran, Rebecca O'Kray, Beth Martel, Dean Reichard, Brian Schleicher, Amy Kapetan, Dave Hills and Elana Drake.

He also had praise for newcomers who gained, in some cases, their first ribbons in league competition. Those included Tracy Livingston, Karan Baran, Karen Barnhart, Lisa Arcuragi, Michelle Gorman, Mike Chames, Rob Chames, Don Craig, Mickey Adamczak, Keith Williams, Matt Hathorne, Don Mastro, Bill Reiber, Jeff Sirer and Dan White.

Leave early for Ann Arbor Saturday

Football fans are assured of being seated in time for the 12:50 p.m. kickoff of the Michigan-Ohio State football game in Ann Arbor Saturday (Nov. 19) by arriving in the stadium area one hour beforehand.

Automobile Club of Michigan recommends that motorists traveling I-94 use the Saline Road exit, which will be one-way inbound before the game and one-way outbound afterwards.

Construction on I-94 near Metropolitan Airport, which reduces traffic to one lane each way, is scheduled to be completed in time for game traffic. Motorists using US-23 also should use Saline Road via I-94.

There is parking for about 7,000 cars within easy walking distance of the stadium. More than 104,000 persons are expected for the game.

The Meteors bounced back to beat the Ypsilanti Braves (18-14), the Westland Jets (25-6) and the Westland Rockets (24-0).

The Junior Varsity posted its first undefeated season ever as they swept all eight of their games during the record-breaking season.

Seven of those Meteor victories also were by shutouts.

The Junior Varsity coaches included Rick Foy (head coach), Roger Hatcher, Ron Hallis, Marv Rogers, Gordon Vinning and Norm Schultz.

The total roster consisted of 41 players which is unusually large and each player had an opportunity to play in at least five plays per half.

The Junior Varsity launched the season against the Flyers and won 12-0, then went on to whip Garden City (25-0), the Panthers (7-0), the Comets (21-6), the Braves (12-0), the Jets (18-0) and the Rockets (20-0).

The Meteor Varsity unit was coached by Paul Umfleet (head coach) who was assisted by Joe Aulette, John Fargo, Jim Searcy in recording an enviable 6-2 won-lost record.

Cage game to help Cherry Hill baseball

High school athletics are going through a transition period. With voters turning down most millage requests, schools are looking elsewhere for monies to keep sports afloat.

And, Saturday night, Cherry Hill will put on a benefit basketball game in hopes of raising enough money to suit up its varsity baseball team this spring.

The Gems, a professional women's basketball team, will clash with a men's faculty team on Saturday at 8 p.m. with the monies going to the baseball program.

"We hope to raise about $500 for our baseball team," said Spartan head baseball coach Ken Mienkiewicz. "The fans who attend Saturday's game will not only see one of the finest women's basketball teams in the nation, but also will be helping out a baseball team."

The gals will take on the faculty men's team led by former All-Stater, ex-coach Joe LaScala. LaScala has one of his proteges, Jerry Pawloski, also ready for action. Other members of the team include: Neil Thomas, Gordie Parrington, Dave Bogataj, Jeff Shough, Jack Ammons, Lucine Domin and Mientkiewicz.

Pre-game ticket sales for fans under 12 years old are $1.50 and for adults, tickets will cost $1.75. At the door ticket prices are a bit higher, respectively for $2.00 and $2.50, students and adults.

Choose Now from 29 new '78 models.
78's are here... biggest new car inventory EVER
High volume means two things to you: a low price and a large selection. So we now have the biggest inventory ever—over a hundred new 1978 Toyotas.
You know how we like to set sales records... we did in '77 and that's why they've sent us so many new cars. Well, we intend to break all records in '78. So you'll get a bigger selection at the best possible price.
Remember, three things have made us the number one import dealer in the area. One, we sell Toyotas. Two, we sell at the lowest price possible. And three, we don't sacrifice service to volume. At Toyota Ann Arbor, you get the most car for your money.
the more we sell, the more we get the more we get, the better the deal
